SENATE TO VOTE ON EXCLUSION

Debate Practically Ended and Voting Will Begin Today.

SEVERAL CHANGES WERE MADE

To Reconcile Opponents of the Measure---Clauses Regarding Students and Teachers.

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 15.—The debate on the Chinese exclusion bill was practically concluded today, and voting on the bill and amendments will begin at 10 o'clock tomorrow. By general consent a vote was taken today on two important amendments offered by Mr. Fairbanks of Indiana, striking out the definition as to Chinese students and teachers, and they were agreed to without division. These changes were made with a view to reconciling some of the opposition to the measure which has been directed against the rigid restrictions on the students and teachers and unnecessary inconvenience this would impose on the educated Chinese classes coming to this country. The debate was participated in by Senators Heitfeld (Idaho), Penrose (Pennsylvania), and Turner (Washington) in favor of the bill, and Senators Pritchard (North Carolina) and Spooner (Wisconsin), in opposition.

Mr Turner made the assertion that politics had crept into the discussion and that most of the senators of the majority were opposed to the bill. This brought out a sharp rejoinder from Mr. Spooner, who maintained that politics had not figured in the discussion and that opposition to the present bill was due entirely to its conflict with the treaty, and not because of any opposition to Chinese exclusion, which was an established doctrine of the government.

When the senate met today Mr. Hasbrough, from the committee on public lands, reported the house bill legalizing the manual of surveying instructions of the general land office, and the bill was passed.

The senate then resumed consideration of the Chinese exclusion bill, and Mr Gallinger read a number of telegrams referring to the bill.

One of these was from a number of attorneys of San Francisco, replying to an allegation made by Chinese inspector Dunn, when before the senate committee on immigration, to the effect that many attorneys use unfair means in promoting the interests of their clients. The attorneys assume that the testimony was directed at themselves or at some of them and say that if it does the charge is "false and malicious." They call upon him to give names.

There also was a mass of other telegrams from the citizens of the Pacific coast urging the passage of the Platt substitute re-enacting the Geary law. Many of the dispatches expressed the opinion that the Geary law had been amply sufficient for the protection of American interests, and that the pending bill is too severe.

Mr Perkins (California), submitted a large number of dispatches supporting the bill. One of the telegrams was from the mayor and board of supervisors or legislative body of San Francisco, declaring that the opposition of the chamber of commerce did not represent the position of the people of the Pacific coast, who asked the passage of the senate bill.

The bill then was laid aside and the senate held a brief executive session.

When the doors were reopened the senate passed the additional urgent deficiency appropriation bill with a minor amendment.

Consideration of the Chinese exclusion bill was resumed, and Mr. Heitfeld (Idaho) spoke in support of the senate measure. He maintained that the friends of exclusion wanted a measure that would actually exclude. The sovereignty of the bill was the only argument used against it, but experience had shown that stringent restriction was essential if there was to be any effective exclusion. Mr Heitfeld said the hearings had disclosed that some of those opposing the pending bill aimed not only against this particular measure, but sought to break down the policy of exclusion.

Mr. Pritchard (North Carolina), followed in a speech opposing the bill, mainly on account of the injury it would cause the south in reducing the cotton exports to China.

Mr. Gallinger (New Hampshire), supplemented the argument he has heretofore made in opposition to the bill.

Mr. Mallory (Florida), expressed surprise at the amendment proposing to strike out the Seamans clause, so-called. He said this was one of the most salutary features, and should be retained.

Mr. Fairbanks (Indiana), moved to strike out sections 6 and 7 of the bill, the first defining "teacher" and the other "student."

In behalf of the committee on immigration, in charge of the measure, Mr. Penrose (Pennsylvania), expressed approval of the amendments, saying they were calculated to remove objections raised against the bill. Being acceptable to the committee, the vote on striking out these sections was not deferred until the general voting tomorrow, and Mr. Fairbank's motion prevailed without division.

Mr Penrose spoke in support of the bill. He declared that the only means of securing effective exclusion was through the senate bill, or that passed by the house, and he characterized the other measure as subterfuge emanating from those opposed to exclusion. The principle of exclusion had become a national necessity, he said, for the protection of the American home and family and for the preservation of American civilization.

Mr Penrose maintained that our commercial expansion in the Pacific would in no way be retarded by the exclusion of a non-assimilative people like the Chinese. Our commerce had steadily increased during the period of exclusion, and in 1897, when the regulations were most rigid, it was double the amount of the period preceding exclusion. Senators would deceive themselves, Mr. Penrose said, if they believed a simple extension of the present exclusion law would meet the necessities of the situation. If effective exclusion was not provided now, he said, a demand would come not only from the Pacific coast, but also from the entire country, which would overwhelm the opposition to exclusion and would result in a more drastic law than the one now proposed.

Mr Turner (Washington), answering the contentions of Mr Foraker, declared there was nothing in the bill inconsistent with our treaty. The bill had no politics in it when it came from the committee, said Mr. Turner. It was a measure for the protection of the people of our land. From the time it was reported, however, sentiment had been crystalizing on the Republican side of the chamber until the measure hardly had a friend on that side, save among the members of the committee. Politics had crept in, the senator declared, in spite of the effort to keep it out. The power of the corporations had been heard from; the "business interests" had been heard from. The great transcontinental railroads and the steamship companies were opposed to exclusion, and in his judgment the opposition had taken the form of the proposed substitute for an extension of the present law. The substitute was an announcement to China and the laboring people of this country that no exclusion would be undertaken without the consent of China.

Mr. Turner closed with an expression of amazement at the hysterical tendencies suddenly shown for China and compared this with the bloody work of China two years ago, when the United States minister was a prisoner at Peking.

Mr Spooner (Wisconsin), expressed dissatisfaction with the pending bill and also with the substitute. He was astonished to hear from the Washington senator, Mr. Turner, an imputation of unworthy motives on the part of the senators on the Republican side of the chamber. Mr. Turner disclaimed any purpose to impute unworthy motives to the senators.

Not a breath of party division had occurred on this measure, continued Mr. Spooner, until the senator from Washington had injected it into the discussion evidently with the belief that when he left the Republican party all its virtue departed with him. The Republican party needed no defense, Mr. Spooner said, against the charge that it opposed effective Chinese exclusion. Strike from the statute books what that party had enacted for the protection of the American wage earner, and but little would remain. The senator declared that the time would never come when our people would admit the Chinese, no matter what steamship company or what railroad company desired it. The exclusion of the Chinese was a definite and established policy and he and his associates on the Republican side of the chamber did not yield to the senator from Washington in the determination to keep the Chinese from our shores. But Mr. Spooner said he believed in keeping treaty obligations, and either there should be exclusion consistent with our treaty, or else if necessity required, there should be an abrogation of that treaty.

As Mr. Spooner proceeded he had frequent sharp parliamentary exchanges with Mr. Patterson (Colorado), and Mr. Mitchell (Oregon), on incidental features of the bill. Responding to Mr. Spooner, Mr. Platt said that while he did not consider it necessary to do so, he would accept the suggestion and insert in his substitute a specific provision continuing in effect the Scott act of 1888. He also agreed to a suggestion made by Mr. Lodge extending the privileges of the substitute to the insular possessions of the United States, and to Chinese coming to the mainland of the United States from those insular possessions.

Mr. Turner had been a somewhat impatient listener to the effort to perfect the substitute, and when Mr. Platt yielded the floor he complained that, inasmuch as Mr. Spooner has made frequent reference to him, the "brushing aside" of himself had been discourteous. Mr. Platt replied that such had not been his intention, and it was arranged that the senate should advance for another hour the time of convening tomorrow, in order to give Mr Turner an opportunity to be heard, thus making the time of meeting tomorrow 10 o'clock. Mr. Pettus then sought to have the senate adjourn, but Mr. Penrose attempted to secure an executive session, in order to have the senate act on the nomination of Mr. Wynne.

Mr Penrose succeeded, but when the doors were closed Mr. Pettus baffled his purpose by suggesting the absence of a quorum. There were only a few senators present, and in the face of this suggestion nothing was left but to close the session. Consequently, at 6:15 p. m., the senate adjourned.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE

Imposing Ceremonies at Washington Attended By Many Notable People---His Life Compared With the Apostle Paul.

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 15.—Funeral services were held at the Church of the Covenant this afternoon over the body of the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage. The large church was crowded to the doors. The funeral ceremonies began at 5 o'clock and occupied more than an hour. Rev. Dr. Teunis S. Hamlin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, and Rev. Drs. Chalmers Easton of this city and S. J. Niccols and James Demarest, both of Brooklyn, officiated. The casket rested immediately in front of the pulpit, and over it was a massive bed of violets. The floral offerings were numerous, mostly of lilies of the valley and white roses, including a wreath sent from the White house by President and Mrs. Roosevelt. The members of the stricken family occupied pews on the right, while across the aisle from them were the honorary pall bearers: Justices Harlan and Brewer of the supreme court of the United States, Senators Cullom of Illinois, Burrows, Michigan, and Dolliver, Iowa; Representative William Alden Smith, Michigan; ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster. Rev. Drs. Louis Klopsch of New York and Bittinger and Friske of this city; J. L. MacGruder of this city, E. H. Branch and F. M. Lawrence, lifelong Brooklyn friends of the dead minister, and B. H. Warner of this city. After the family had entered a male quartet sang "Lead, Kindly Light," a favorite hymn of Dr. Talmage, and during the services sang "Beyond the Sighing and the Weeping" and "It is Well With My Soul." Dr. Hamlin in his address pictured Dr. Talmage as one of the great clergymen of the country.

Dr. Demarest referred to the student life of the deceased. He said Dr. Talmage sometimes had been charged with being sensational, but he was sensational because he must be and it was natural.

Dr. Easton protested that it was yet too early to measure Dr. Talmage; that death clears our vision; removes or minimizes our prejudices and reduces the supposed faults. He said that Dr. Talmage was made of the stock from which martyrs spring and that no man had lived so apostolic a life, since the days of Paul.

Dr. Niccols referred to the dead man's philanthropic deeds and characterized him as a brave heart and noble soldier of the cross.

Dr. Hamlin closed the services with a prayer. Then the immediate relatives, first Mrs. Talmage, leaning on the arm of her eldest son, Rev. Frank Talmage of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Wyckoff of Utica, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Mangam of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Donnan of Richmond, Va., and others of the family following passed to their carriages.

Following this the crowd within the church passed by the bier. The casket remained in the church until late this evening, when it was placed upon a special car attached to the Pennsylvania train leaving here for New York at 12:10 a. m. The remains will be interred tomorrow morning at Greenwood cemetery, in Brooklyn, after services conducted by Rev. Howard Suydam of Rhinebeck, N. Y.

RUSSIAN STUDENT

Assassinated M. Sipaguine, Minister of Interior at St. Petersburg.

By Associated Press.

St. Petersburg, April 15.—The minister of the interior, M. Sipaguine was shot and fatally wounded at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the lobby of the ministerial offices, by a man who held a pistol close to the minister's head. The wounded man died at 2 p. m.

It was learned later that M. Sipaguine was on his way to attend a meeting of the committee of ministers. He had just entered the office of the imperial council when the assassin, who driven up in a carriage, approached and handed him a folded paper, saying he had been charged to deliver it by the Grand Duke Sergiuis. The minister stretched out his hand to take the document, when the assassin fired five shots at him. Three of the bullets struck M. Sipaguine and one wounded his servant.

The assassin did not resist arrest. He said his name was Balsahanstt and that he was a student at Kieff, where he had been sentenced to compulsory military service for participating in the riots of 1901. He said he had subsequently been pardoned, but that he had not been reinstated at the university and that he therefore revenged himself upon Sipaguine. The minister was taken to the hospital Maximilianovsky where he died in one hour.

BOULDER OIL IN DEMAND AS FUEL

Special to the Gazette.

Boulder, April 15.—This week so far has shown nothing new of particular importance in the oil fields. The Alamo is still drilling away and is now at a depth of 2,650 feet. There is still quite a little seepage oil in the well but no very large quantity has been found, and as yet they have failed to reach a thick stratum of oil sand. After passing through the thin layer where the first oil was found, the formation changed to shale again and still continues. The company is still optimistic, however, and will continue drilling to a greater depth in the hope that the oil bearing strata will soon be reached.

The King has a fishing job on hand. The sand line parted yesterday, leaving the bailer at the bottom of the well. As yet all efforts to fish it out have been unsuccessful, but Mr. Lehman hopes to have it out by tomorrow night. They are still drilling in sand and not in shale as reported in some of the newspapers.

The Martin is getting along nicely and the flow of gas is increasing with the depth. The Sale-Boulder is making good time and now measure 800 feet. It also has had quite a flow of gas for the past 400 feet. Chaffee Brothers are getting the Rose Crude down rapidly and have passed the 1,200-foot mark. All of Mr. Huselton's wells are still making good progress, the Olean being 1,760 feet, the Boulder-Valmont 1,000 feet and the Citizens 200 feet. The Bradford machinery has arrived and is being set up. They will spud in the next few days.

The McKenzie is shipping crude oil to a number of manufacturing concerns for use in running gasoline engines. It has been found to give excellent results for this work, and as it does not have to be refined, furnishes a very much cheaper fuel than gasoline. The company is receiving from $2 to $3.50 per barrel for it, which is considered a very fair price for the crude product. Should it come into extensive use for this purpose, as now seems probable, it will be more profitable to dispose of it in this manner than to send it to the refinery. A shipment to Denver and one to Eaton, Colo., was made yesterday.

Contractor Gilchrist spudded in at the Maxwell last night, and the drill has been going steadily since. This well is quite close to the foot hills and its progress will be watched with considerable interest by those who have predicted that a larger flow of oil would be found nearer the hills than in the valley where oil was first discovered.

Cleaning Up Cuba.

Cleaning up the island was as arduous as any part of the work. The city streets had been the receptacles for garbage and other refuse for centuries, making it necessary to dig down several feet in some places to find what had been the original paving. The public buildings had been neither cleaned nor in any way cared for. The cesspools, located under the flagging of the interior courts of the buildings had remained untouched for years, causing the spread of yellow fever among the officers and troops. Yet in a comparatively short time the streets had been cleaned and repaved, the buildings repaired, cesspools cleaned and modern sanitary conveniences installed. An idea may be gained of the unsanitary condition existing when it is said that from under the custom house alone over 1,200 cubic yards of filth and several tons of fetid matter were removed. At Regla, opposite Havana, the large warehouses which had been used as barracks for the Spanish soldiers were found to be filled with filth and vermin, a veritable bed of contagion and disease, and these are only two instances out of a great number.

For hundreds of years yellow fever had existed in Havana. In the months of October, November and December, the yellow fever months, from 1890 to 1900, the smallest number of deaths, 52, occurred, in 1898, the largest, 631, in 1896, while for the same period in 1901 no deaths have occurred from this disease and the mortality from all diseases does not exceed that of Baltimore or other cities in the United States. The streets have been repaved and a street-sweeping service put in operation. A system for the daily collection and disposition of garbage and refuse is in use, with frequent house to house inspections, to see that there is no violation of the sanitary laws. In the general improvement of the city the parks have been improved, some restored, and all fashioned after the park system of this country.—(Charles G. Phelps, in The World's Work.

The Currency Bill.

The banking and currency committee of the house of representatives has reported a bill providing for a more elastic currency and for the correction of the most dangerous evil of our present national bank system. If the bill should become a law we might expect that alternating currency deficiencies, or famines, now at the shipping points and now at the wheat and cotton exchange centers of the interior, would soon cease to trouble the financial world. The bill provides that the national banks which assume the redemption of United States notes in gold to the amount of 20 per cent of their capital may, without depositing bonds, issue asset circulation. They may immediately issue bank notes to the amount of 10 per cent. of their circulation, and, after one year, another 10 per cent. may be issued. On this there shall be a tax of 1 per cent per annum. When the bank ceases to redeem United States notes the tax is to be 1¼ per cent. Issues may continue to increase for five years, at the rate of 10 per cent, until the bank has a circulation equal to 60 per cent. of its capital. The tax on the four issues is to be 1¼ per cent. In order to meet extraordinary demands for currency, two emergency issues are to be permitted. These are in the discretion of the board of control (three members who take the place of the comptroller of the currency). Each issue is to be of 20 per cent.; the first is to be taxed at 3, and the second at 5 per cent. The amount of greenbacks whose redemption would be assumed if all the existing national banks agreed to this provision is $130,000,000. The government, in return, would redeem and destroy half the amount thus assumed by the banks. This, therefore, is a provision to relieve the treasury of the burden of $196,000,000 of greenbacks; the balance would be taken care of by the $150,000,000 gold reserve. Banks declining to assume the redemption of greenbacks may issue asset circulation after the whole of the $196,000,000 is provided for. A guarantee fund and branch offices, or banks, are provided for. In a general way, the bill meets the approval of Secretary Shaw.—(Harper's Weekly.

The Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

At last, under the new administration of Britains' foreign interests of Lord Lansdowne, the Japanese have been rewarded with the partnership of Great Britain in an effort to right the gravest wrong that Europe has done in China. The two powers will insist that the powers keep their promise not to seize Chinese territory or extort concessions giving any power or powers an unfair commercial advantage over the others. The policy of Japan in which she seeks the support of England is laid bare in her demand that China promote to a place in the Peking foreign office the notorious Boxer Na Tung, who went to Tokio to apologize for China's misdeeds. From this hour on we may count upon Japan as the hearty friend of China and we may be certain that her hatred of Russia no longer slumbers.—(Julian Ralph, in The World's Work.

"Further instructions in both matters are required by the following facts:

"Press dispatches state that upon the trial of Major Waller of the marine corps testimony was given by Waller, corroborated by other witnesses, that General Jacob H. Smith instructed him to kill and burn: that the more he killed and burned the better pleased General Smith would be; that it was no time to take prisoners, and that when Major Waller asked General Smith to define the age limit for killing, he replied: 'Everything over 10.' If such testimony was given, and the facts can be established, you will place General Smith on trial by court martial.

"Yesterday before the senate committee on Philippine affairs, Sergeant Charles Riley and Private William Lewis Smith of the Twenty-sixth Volunteer infantry, testified that the form of torture known as the 'water cure' was administered to the presidente of the town of Igbarras, Iloilo province, island of Panay, by detachments of the Eighteenth United States infantry, under command of Lieutenant Arthur L. Conger, under orders of Major Edwin F. Glenn, then captain of the Twenty-fifth infantry, and that Captain and Assistant Surgeon Palmer Lyon, at that time a contract surgeon, was present to assist them. The officers named, or such of them as are found to be responsible for the act, will be tried therefor by court martial. Conger and Lyon are in this country. Both the Twenty-sixth Volunteer infantry and Eighteenth infantry having returned to the United States, and most of the witnesses being presumptively here, the secretary of war directs that Major E. F. Glenn, Twenty-fifth infantry, be directed to proceed to San Francisco and report to the general commanding the department of California with a view to his trial by court martial under charges alleging the cruelties practiced by him upon a native of the Philippine islands at Igbarras on the 27th of June, 1900. If you can discover any witnesses still in the services in the Philippines who can testify in support of the charges, or if Major Glenn desires the attendance of any persons now serving in the islands as witnesses for the defense, you will direct them to proceed to San Francisco for that purpose. As the two years allowed for the prosecution by the statute of limitation is nearly at an end, no time is to be lost. You will take such course in advancing or postponing the investigations previously ordered into the conduct of General Smith and Major Glenn as shall be required to enable you to execute these instructions. It is believed that the violations of law and humanity of which these cases, if true, are examples, will prove to be few and occasional, and not to characterize the conduct of the army generally in the Philippines, but the fact that any such acts of cruelty and barbarity appear to have been done, indicates the necessity of a most thorough, searching and exhaustive investigation into the general charges preferred by Governor Gardener, and you will spare no effort in the investigation already ordered under these charges to uncover every such case, which may have occurred and bring the offenders to justice.

"The president desires to know in the fullest and most circumstantial manner all the facts, nothing being concealed and no man being for any reason favored or shielded.

"For the very reason that the president intends to back up the army in the heartiest fashion in every lawful and legitimate method of doing its work, he also intends to see that the most rigorous care is exercised to detect and prevent any cruelty or brutality and that men who are guilty thereof are punished.

"Great as the provocation has been in dealing with foes who habitually resort to treachery, murder and torture against our men, nothing can justify or will be held to justify the use of torture or inhuman conduct of any kind, on the part of the American army.

ELIHU ROOT,
"Secretary of War.

PARIS MEMORIAL TO PRESIDENT McKINLEY

By Associated Press.

Paris, April 15.—The gala matinee performance at the Opera Comique today in aid of the fund for a memorial to the late President McKinley at Canton, Ohio, was a great artistic and financial success. The house was crowded with resident Americans and many Parisians of social prominence.

The United States ambassador, General Porter, received President Loubet at the entrance of the building and conducted him to the presidential box which was elaborately decorated with American and French flags, flowers and the arms of the United States, as were the boxes occupied by General and Mrs. Porter and J. K. Gowdy, the United States consul, and Mrs. Gowdy.

The program consisted of selections and scenes from operas and plays, recitations and a ballet in which appeared the leading members of the Comique Opera the three Coquelins, Sarah Bernhardt, Mme Fuegere and Mme. Rejane.

At the close of the performance "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung beautifully by Ella Beach Yaw, of San Francisco, and also the "Marseillaise." All the artists were warmly applauded.

New York, April 15.—Charles A. Tinker, who for many years has been the general superintendent of the eastern division of the Western Union Telegraph company, has resigned, to take effect May 1, and Belvidere Brooks, superintendent at Denver, Colorado, has been promoted to fill the vacancy. The territory includes New England and the middle states and Maryland.

CUBAN RECIPROCITY BILL IS PAST DANGER STAGE

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 15.—With the close of the Cuban reciprocity debate in the house today the leaders announced that all danger of the bill being weighted down with undesirable amendments was over and that they felt assured the bill would pass in the shape in which it came from the committee. As the bill in its present form is sure to command three-fourths of the vote of each side of the house its passage was certain if it successfully passed the stage when amendments could be offered. The only cause of anxiety heretofore has been the possibility that enough Republicans would join the Democrats to over-rule the chair and tack on to the bill an amendment to abolish the differential on refined sugar. All the energies of the leaders has been directed, therefore, to bringing pressure to bear on the recalcitrant Republicans to induce them to refrain from aiding this plan and this evening at the close of the session of the house it was announced that the entire Republican delegations from Michigan and California who constitute the head and front of the opposition had agreed not to vote to over-rule the rulings of the chair. Mr. Watson of Indiana, who is acting as the whip for the majority does not believe over a dozen Republicans at the outside will join the Democrats in this proposition. It would require more than 20 Republican votes to replace on the bill the amendment which might endanger its ultimate passage as several Democrats, it is understood, also have declared their intention to stand by the ruling of the chair.

An unsuccessful effort was made again today by Mr. Payne to secure an agreement to limit the general debate. When the house adjourned today there remained 35 members who desired to speak.

The debate today was without particular interest. The speakers were Messrs. Swanson (Va.), and White (Ky.), for the bill, and Messrs. R. W. Smith (Mich.), Dayton (W. Va.), Burgess, (Texas), Meyer (La.), and Sutherland (Utah), against it.

Mr. Meyer of Louisiana, who opposed the measure laid stress on the hardships which the ruin of the cane sugar industry would entail on the black laborers of Louisiana who, he contended, were entitled to as much consideration as the laboring men of Cuba.

Mr. Sutherland of Utah, concluded the debate for the day with a speech against the bill.

Mr. Hull (Iowa) reported the military academy appropriation bill.

At 5.35 p. m. the house adjourned.

NEWS NOTES FROM DENVER

Game Commissioner Harris Seized Birds Belonging to Curator Ferril—Stonaker Investigation.

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, April 15.—A clash is on between the game commissioner's office and State Curator Ferril. This morning Game Commissioner Harris seized a number of birds at a local taxidermist's, which Ferril had sent to have mounted. The game commissioner says he will prosecute Ferril for killing them. Ferril claims that he killed them for scientific purposes as he had the right to do. Among the lot seized were 20 sparrows, 10 blue jays, four cedar birds and others. Harris contends that if Ferril was killing them for scientific purposes, he would have no need of so many birds of the same variety. The outcome will be watched with interest.

The Stonaker investigation will be continued at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Subpoenas have been issued to a large number of witnesses to appear. Among those summoned are the persons responsible for the papers being filed with the board of charities and corrections and the proprietors of the newspapers which have been very denunciatory of Mr. Stonaker. A large number of paroled and pardoned prisoners have also been summoned.

The arguments over the injunction of United States Circuit Judge Moses Hallett against the county auditor and treasurer to prevent the latter from collecting certain claimed taxes due the county by Judge Hallett will begin tomorrow. The history of the case is as follows: In 1897 Judge Hallett returned a tax schedule showing that he had less than $1,000 worth of notes and credits. The county authorities disregarded his schedule and placed the estimate at $5,000. In 1898 he returned a similar low schedule and this time was listed at $200,000, while in 1899 the same thing occurred, only his list was raised to $75,000. Then he refused to pay his taxes under the raised schedule and the county authorities prepared to collect the same. He secured a temporary restraining order preventing the collection and tomorrow arguments will be heard over whether or not the order shall be made permanent. The judge contends that he has no such amount of notes and credits, while the county authorities claim that they can substantiate their figures. The county will be represented by John T. Bottom, while G. W. Allen and W. C. Kingsley will represent the judge.

The city of Denver today appealed to the supreme court another case against Judge Hallett which involves an assessment against his property over a storm sewer which was built on Broadway. He was taxed $352.24 on the sewer and resisted the payment on the ground that the law providing for the sewer was illegal. Judge Malone sustained his contention and today the city appealed.

Belvidere Brooks, the assistant superintendent of the western division of the Western Union Telegraph company, has been appointed general superintendent of the eastern division with headquarters in New York. Charles D. Horton of Omaha, will succeed Mr. Brooks in this city. Mr. Brooks had charge of the western division for 12 years, having come here from Galveston. He will leave for New York at once and will take charge of that division at once.

The semi-annual meeting of the Denver Presbytery convened at the Central Presbyterian church this morning. A large attendance was present. The work was routine, merely the reports of officers being heard. Those in a position to know, state that reports are exceedingly satisfactory.

Huston Frueauff dropped dead just after he had finished at Cotillion hall last night. He lived at 2234 Stout street and was 15 years old. Heart disease caused his death.

The Denver Trades and Labor assembly is divided and as a result cannot get its mail from the Denver postoffice as both contending parties claim the mail. Each side has also notified the postmaster not to deliver it to the other. The matter has been taken up with the postmaster general, and his decision is anxiously awaited.

Mayor Wright has received a letter from R. W. Woodbury regarding the Carnegie gift of $200,000 for a library building. It is in answer to a letter asking for the specific terms under which the gift will be made, and is as follows:

"New York, April 10.—Hon. R. R. Wright, Mayor of Denver, President of Board of directors, Public Library: Dear Sir—I called again at Mr. Carnegie's this afternoon and had another interview with Mr. Bertram. I informed him that I would make official report to the board, in writing, of the result of our conversations, as the same applies to the interrogatories of the letter approved by the board of directors and forwarded to Mr. Bertram on the 27th of March.

"Mr. Carnegie is governed in his gifts by the population as shown by the last census of the United States. His gifts are based on his conception of the present needs of the city, and not on what they may be expected to be at any future period.

"His requirement that the city council shall agree to provide at least $30,000 a year, notwithstanding the existence of the statute making it their duty to levy a certain tax for library purposes, is to put the city under pledge, in connection with the gift.

"The permanent fixtures of the building, such as iron cases, etc., are considered a part of the building. There is no objection to the board of directors adding whatever sum or sums they may choose to the amount given by Mr. Carnegie. Such additions, if any, will make no difference in his gift.

"It will be necessary to clear the site of debt before the Carnegie fund can be enjoyed; and when that is done, be it soon or remote, the gift will be available as wanted. Yours truly.

"R. W. Woodbury, Secretary."

Mayor Wright says $40,000 will be paid on the ground this year, leaving a balance of $38,000, which can be easily paid next year. He says the ground can be owned clear by August, 1903, and after that date Mr. Carnegie's gift will be available.

Peter Magnes, postmaster at Petersburg dropped dead in the postoffice at that city last night. Death was due to apoplexy. He was one of the oldest residents of this part of the state.

Edward F. Bishop this morning bought from the Madison Real Estate company the seven-lot corner at the corner of Eleventh avenue and Broadway, where he will erect a five-story block which will cost $200,000. He paid $35,000 for the lots.

Eugene Stevens of Leadville, has brought suit in the supreme court for an order to prevent his divorced wife from collecting $50 a month alimony. He had paid her in all $3,000 alimony and $1,500 for the care of a child. He states that this is taking all his money and he is no longer able to meet the payments, hence the suit.

HOW THEY MANAGE

Doctor's Wives Trained to Arrange Things.

Sometimes the wife of a doctor can bring her husband around when he don't know exactly how to help himself. The wife of a certain well-known physician in Washington, D. C., concluded that coffee was the cause of the doctor's sleepless nights. She says: "He would retire and lie for hours unable to sleep a wink. I thought perhaps he was nervous from the coffee which he drank at his meals and suggested that he try Postum. To my surprise he objected most decidedly. I said nothing but the next morning made Postum Coffee instead of the regular coffee and gave that to the doctor. I made it according to directions and it had a beautiful coffee color and flavor. He drank his cup and remarked that the coffee was unusually good that morning and asked for more.

"From that time I served him Postum at every meal, and in the course of a week or two he showed such remarkable signs of improvement in health and strength that I told him he had been drinking Postum from the time he had begun to get better.

"You never saw such a surprised man. He said: 'Well, if the good coffee I have had is Postum, and leaving off regular coffee has made such a change in my health, I never want any other kind in my house.' Since then he regularly prescribes Postum to many of his patients and with good results." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Victor, April 15.—Although no provisions have been made for salaries, as provided by house bill 114 of the session laws of Colorado of 1901, the Democratic officeseekers of Victor lined up at the city council this morning, willing to serve the city and take chances upon getting paid for their services. MINISTERS OBJECT TO WARE'S LIBERAL VIEWS

By Associated Press.

Topeka, Kas., April 15.—The friends of Eugene Ware recently appointed to the office of pension commissioner do not ascribe much importance to the charges about to be filed against him in Washington. Mr. Ware is understood as having liberal views on religious matters. The ministerial union of Topeka is considering working to oppose his confirmation on the ground that he is an agnostic. As yet there has been no formal action taken by the union.

CRIPPLE CREEK NEWS NOTES

Engley Under Arrest for Disturbing Judge Seeds' Court—Had a Revolver.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek, April 15.—Attorney Eugene Engley was arrested this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the court room of District Judge W. P. Seeds after events had transpired that led the court officials and a number of attorneys present to believe that Engley intended to make an assault upon Judge Seeds. If it had not been for the timely and heroic action of Attorney E. C. Stimson, a crime would probably have been committed. After a struggle the court officials overpowered Attorney Engley, disarmed him of a 38 caliber revolver and placed him in the county jail. Judge Seeds, who had adjourned court during the trouble, then again took the bench and heard the matter pending.

Attorney Engley is of a very erratic temperament and since the trial of Kerch Kuykendall and Hartley J. Lake, who were clients of the attorney, his friends have not been able to understand his peculiar actions. Engley is a heavy drinker and was intoxicated this afternoon. It was shortly after 3 o'clock when he went to the office of the district clerk and asked Deputy Foley where Judge Seeds was holding court. The deputy thought nothing of the matter and told Mr. Engley that he thought Judge Seeds was in division 2. It was then that Mr. Foley suspected trouble. Engley went to Judge Seeds' chamber. Not finding the judge there, he went to division 2 of the court, sitting in the council chamber of the city hall. Finding the court in session he went behind the railing and sat down. District Attorney Trowbridge was arguing a motion against the granting of a new trial to the Buzanes brothers and Judge Seeds was on the bench. Attorney Engley was noticeably nervous and changed his position three times until he was sitting but a few feet to the right of Judge Seeds. Deputy Clerk H. P. Seeds was in the court room and when Engley entered he told Deputy Sheriff Squires to keep a close watch on Mr. Engley as the latter was intoxicated and might start trouble. Attorney Edward Stimson was sitting to the left of Judge Seeds, and a movement made by Attorney Engley caused Mr. Stimson to at once cross the room to him. Attorney Stimson passed directly behind Judge Seeds and got between Attorney Engley and the court. Deputy Sheriff Squires also started towards Mr. Engley, but the latter told him to keep away or there would be trouble. Engley also motioned Attorney Stimson to step aside. Judge Seeds, seeing that something was wrong, adjourned court and hurriedly left the bench, when Engley shouted, "Judge Seeds, take your seat!" Judge Seeds left the court room. Engley, intoxicated and his eyes glaring like those of a maniac, struggled with Deputy Sheriff Squires and Bailiff P. N. McPhee. In the struggle he received a slight scratch on the face, but it bled quite profusely.

In his pocket was found a loaded 38 caliber revolver. During the struggle he said, "Squires, you Pinkerton, I will get even with you for this." Sheriff Robertson and Under Sheriff Vardaman had been notified by Deputy Foley that Mr. Engley was hunting Judge Seeds. They reached the court room about the same time that the trouble ended. Engley walked to the county jail with them. Judge Seeds then returned to the court room and arguments were resumed. Although Attorney Engley said nothing that would lead the spectators to believe that he intended to attack the court, it is nevertheless believed that on account of the strained relations between himself and Judge Seeds, this was his intention. It is believed here quite generally that Attorney Engley is temporarily deranged because of brooding over the many sensations he has figured in during this term of the district court. His actions today recall the attempt made by him to shoot J. C. Fraser, a Pinkerton detective, at the close of the Kuykendall-Lake trial. Friends of Mr. Engley state that the matter will be amicably settled tomorrow. Attorney Engley is fast asleep at the county jail tonight.

News reached here today that "Billy" Vint, a former well-known operator of this district, has been made a cripple for life by being badly frozen at Cape Nome. Mr. Vint left here many months ago for Alaska. Some two months ago he with a companion, so the information states, went into a new section of Alaska, north of Nome City. The companion was frozen to death and it was only a miracle that saved Vint's life. He was rescued by a dog train and carried to quarters where it was found that his ears were frozen, one side of his face frozen and one arm frozen so badly that it will never be of service to him. His many friends here regret to learn of his misfortune.

J. W. Fowler commenced action in the district court today against M. C. Hillock and a Mr. Jewell, to recover possession of the J. M., J. H., Orient and Occident lode claims, together with $800 damages and costs of suit. The plaintiff alleges that on February 14 the defendants wrongfully entered upon and took possession of the property.

Two divorces were granted today by the jury in the county court. Lola May Watkin was granted a divorce from Charles P. Watkin upon the ground of desertion and non-support, and Hattie Beckenkrager was granted a divorce from F. C. Beckenkrager upon the grounds of desertion and cruelty.

The board of county commissioners will tomorrow make an examination of the new county hospital, and if the building is satisfactory it will be accepted from the contractors.

Under an agreement filed with the county clerk today, the case of D. B. Shields versus the F. & C. C. R. R. company, a $5,000 damage suit now pending in the district court for damage to property of the plaintiff on South Third street will be dismissed. The suit was compromised upon the defendant company paying the plaintiff $400. The railroad tracks will remain on South Third street.

Sheriff Robertson today levied on the Conception No. 14,356, on Raven hill, to satisfy a judgment in the case of Herman Schwanbeck versus the Guyot M. Co.

Among the deeds filed for record today with the county clerk were the following: The Columbine-Victor D., M. & T. Co., to D. P. Mackey, one-third interest in that portion of the Rosebud lode in conflict with the Little Maggie lode, $1; Hamilton Guyot to the Surety Mining Co., the Little Kansas lode and 51-100 interest in the Denver lode, $2; Mary A. Higgins to Robert L. Hubbard, the west one-half of the northeast quarter of section 25, township 12 south, range 70 west of the sixth principal meridian, $800; George H. Dixon to Fannie Dixon, lot 6, block 31, Goldfield, $900.

At the home of the bride's parents this afternoon at 2 o'clock Rev. Mr. Keithley, of the Presbyterian church, united in marriage Mr. Herbert Max Gilbert, a well-known insurance man of this city, and Miss Margaret Belle Hickman, a popular young lady. The happy couple left on the 4 o'clock train for a wedding trip to Denver and Colorado Springs. They will make their home in this city.

Marriage licenses were issued today to Mike Monahan, aged 23, and Bertha Alva LeFoe, aged 21, both of Cripple Creek, and to R. E. Taylor, aged 29, of Lexington, Neb., and Miss Bertha Whitman, aged 22, of this city.

In division 1 of the district court this afternoon, Bump & Hill got judgment against Lampman, Burton and Berry for $286.15. The defendants were members of the Fourth of July committee for 1900 and this amount was due for fire works.

Funeral services over the bodies of D. E. Murphy, aged 68 years; his two sons, William D. and George H., aged 26 and 24 years, and his wife, Mrs. Mary H. Murphy, aged 55 years, were held this afternoon at Odd Fellows temple. All four persons died of pneumonia and the services this afternoon were held under the auspices of the G. A. R., Woman's Relief Corps and members of Company H, N. G. C. Rev. Mr. Schofield, of the Episcopal church, officiated and the bodies were shipped this afternoon to Colorado Springs for interment.

The two city councils of Cripple Creek are playing a waiting game and each is watching each move made by the other faction. Mayor Crane and the Democratic faction met tonight and took charge of the council chamber, but transacted no business except to appoint the standing committees for the ensuing year. Efforts were made to secure the attendance of Aldermen Gwinn and Van der Weyden, who are at present members of the other council. The council numbering among its members the Republican aldermen, adjourned to meet tonight, but could not do so, owing to the fact that the Democrats are in possession of the city hall. It is understood that the council now in session will wait until midnight and if at that time Aldermen Gwinn and Van der Weyden are not present the transaction of business will be commenced and an ordinance will be passed requiring the attendance of all the councilmen.

The time for calling a quorum of the members of the city council passed at midnight without Mayor Crane and Aldermen Pfeiffer and Ferguson being able to get Aldermen Gwinn and Van der Weyden into the meeting. Search warrants were issued and the entire police force was called out to hunt for the absentees. The Republicans consider this a victory and further state that the aldermanic duo or faction which met tonight is now out of the race. The next step in the fight will be watched with great interest.

Tom Forrester, who has been named "Tom the Slapper," was arrested tonight, after having slapped two women on Bennett avenue, between Third and Fourth street. Forrester is a miner and tonight was removed from the city council chamber for disturbance. He was intoxicated, and after leaving the council chamber he assaulted the two women. He then attempted to make his escape by running, but ran directly into the arms of Night Marshall Bruce Grass and was placed in the city jail. Forrester knew neither of the two women, and in his present condition cannot explain his action.

Tonight's game was the last of two series of three games each to have been played between the Rovers and Hoffmans. The Rovers won the victory tonight by 447 pins. The teams were lined up as follows: Rovers club, Pherson, Pugh, P. Cross, Haman, Kuppinger (captain). Hoffman club, Allard, Ross, Carey, Richie, Guy (captain). The result of the corresponding game on the Hoffman alley one week ago was in favor of the Hoffman club by one pin.

COLORADO COLLEGE ANNUAL BULLETIN

Colleges, like men, have their idiosyncrasies, and one of the peculiarities of Colorado college is its aversion to the catalogue, strictly so styled. No publication of the college contains a list of the students' names—the friends and fond parents of the Colorado college undergraduate are offered no official document in which to trace, year by year, his progress from callow freshmanhood to the dignity of seniorship. Aside from the roll of students, however, the functions of a catalogue are sustained by an annual pamphlet, entitled a "Bulletin," and the 28th volume of this series is now before the public. Like its immediate predecessor, it issues from the press of the Gowdy-Simmons Co., and is typographically excellent; it is also like its predecessor in numerous particulars pertaining to its contents. Points of dissimilarity are less easily recognized. No striking divergency, of course, would be expected: yet this bulletin is sufficiently like that of several years past to suggest the probability that the same hand—and that no unskillful hand—has performed the editorial function as chairman of the bulletin committee.

On a strict examination, however, sundry changes appear. The tone of the allusions to the expected scientific building has a more satisfied ring, now that the edifice exists no longer alone on paper, but has actual stone walls which rise higher day by day. Not often does a college, already occupying 10 or a dozen buildings, double the value of its structural equipment at a single stroke: and if the present bulletin announces few new departures, it may well be imagined that they are held in reserve for the opportunity to be afforded by this splendid accession, for advance in every direction.

Though there be no list of students, there are lists of trustees and of members of the faculty. The former, without the loss of any name published a year ago, is strengthened by the addition of that of Mr. William Lennox of this city. The latter shows several accessions, and it is a noteworthy fact that no less than three are drawn from the graduates of the college. Mr. Homer Shantz is in charge of the work in biology, while Lincoln Goodale of '99 and Ralph N. Robertson of '01 hold instructorships in chemistry and physics respectively. From outside the ranks of alumni, the college has obtained a valuable reinforcement for the mathematical department in Miss Anna Parry, a graduate of Oberlin. There is also a new instructor in gymnastics for women, Miss Isabella Strang, and in the department of music, Mrs. Maud S. Faust.

A few of the departments show additional courses, or other modifications. In place of the required work in oratory in freshman year, one declamation each semester is required of all students of this class, and of sophmores as well. Professor Urdahl's department of political science announces new electives in law, while in history he offers an additional course of modern European history. In the English department is a new course of lyrics and sonnets. In physics, Professor Shedd has arranged a series of problem work for freshman. In biology, the last year's announcement contained no other botany than that of cryptogams; Mr. Shantz, however, now offers a course in general botany—a return to former usage which cannot but be commended.

The rules of the faculty governing the award of the master's degree, though in operation for a number of years past, are now for the first time admitted to the bulletin. There is also, among the published "needs of the college" a well-considered plea for an infirmary building, and—not least—an announcement of President Slocum's demand—as just as it is courageous—for an increase of one million dollars in endowment.

FELL FROM TRAIN BUT WAS NOT HURT

Richard Thomas is the name of a man who was picked up beside the railroad track on Sierra Madre street yesterday morning, so thoroughly intoxicated that he did not know what had happened to him.

The police learned from some people living near the tracks that the man had taken a header from a south-bound train. He was badly scratched up about the face and had evidently had a nasty fall, but, being drunk was not seriously hurt. He was locked up and will be given a hearing this morning.

Matt Moore was arrested yesterday on a charge of drunkenness. A charge of petit larceny might have been preferred against him, it is said, but the persons who were the victims decided not to do so. Moore, it is alleged, stole four hearts from one of the Colorado Springs Packing company's wagons. He will be tried for drunkenness this morning.

BISHOP BRENT WILL SPEAK HERE TODAY

Tomorrow he will leave for San Francisco from which port he will sail for the Philippines at an early date.

In the evening Bishop Brent will conduct a public missionary service at Grace Episcopal church.

Tomorrow morning he will address the students of Colorado college at their chapel exercise.

A UNITED STATES SENATOR

Says Pe-ru-na, the Catarrh Cure Gives Strength and Appetite.

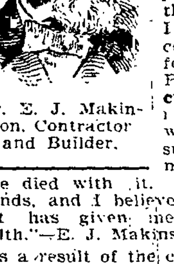

Hon. W. N. Roach Ex-United States Senator from North Dakota.

Hon. W. N. Roach, ex-United States Senator from North Dakota, personally endorses Peruna, the great catarrh cure and tonic. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Company, at Columbus, Ohio, written from Washington, D. C., Senator Roach says:

"Persuaded by a friend, I have used Peruna as a tonic, and I am glad to testify that it has greatly helped me in strength, vigor and appetite. I have been advised by friends that it is remarkably efficacious as a cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh."—W. N. Roach, Larimore, North Dakota.

No other remedy can take the place of Peruna.

Mr. Ed J. Makinson, contractor and builder, 610 Grand Block, Wabash street, St. Paul, Minn., says:

Mr. E. J. Makinson, Contractor and Builder.

"Many doctor bills can be saved by the use of Peruna. I have all my friends taking Peruna, and I have heard nothing but praise from them. Last fall I had a bad cough. I took four bottles of Peruna and it cured me. I am inclined towards consumption as all my family have died with it. I weigh 185 pounds, and I believe it is Peruna that has given me such good health."—E. J. Makinson.

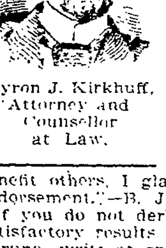

As a result of the changeable climate, catarrh has become one of the most prevalent and universal diseases known to man. Nearly one-third of the people of the United States are afflicted with catarrh in some of its many phases and stages. Add to this the fact that catarrh rapidly tends to become fixed or chronic, also the further fact that it is capable of producing a great many other diseases, and we begin to realize the true nature of this dread disease.

So formidable has catarrh become that in any city or town of any size numerous doctors are to be found who make the treatment of catarrh a specialty. Of course, a great deal of good is accomplished in this way, but as yet a comparatively small number of the people can avail themselves of this treatment because of the great expense necessarily attached to it.

To all such people Dr. Hartman's remedy, Peruna, comes as a great boon. Not only is it more successful in curing catarrh than the treatment of the catarrh specialists, but it is within the reach of every person in this land. Peruna can be bought at any drug store, and is a remedy without equal for catarrh in all forms, coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption, and all climatic diseases of winter.

Peruna is not a guess, nor an experiment; it is an absolute, scientific certainty. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna. Let no one persuade you that some other remedy will do nearly as well. There is no other systemic remedy for catarrh but Peruna.

Mr. Byron J. Kirkhuff, attorney, counsellor-at-law, writes from 691 Gates Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., the following:

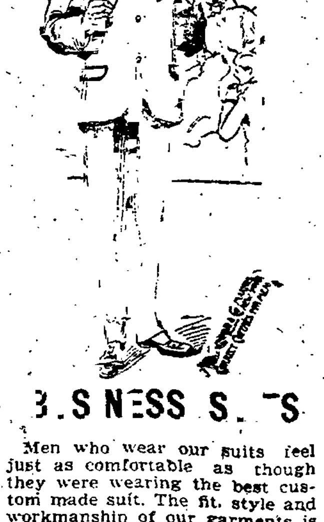

Byron J. Kirkhuff, Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

"I have used your Peruna for catarrh and find its curative powers all you recommend. It cured me of a very bad attack and though I suffered for years I feel entirely relieved, and if it will benefit others, I gladly give it my endorsement."—B. J. Kirkhuff.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

FALSE STATEMENTS ABOUT THE GAZETTE.

THE EDITOR OF THIS PAPER was in the east during January, February and March, and during most of that time was quite ill with malarial fever. Several political jackals and some newspaper reporters, who indulge in fake news items took advantage of that condition of affairs to announce and peddle around, as only such creatures can, that the Gazette was for sale, and that this party and that party held an option upon the paper.

One of these fake news items appeared in the Rocky Mountain News as a special from this city.

Last night's [illegible] more of the same kind of rot appeared in the local evening paper.

The editor of the Gazette, who is the owner of a large majority of the stock of the Gazette company, wishes to state once for all to the friends and patrons of this paper that this paper is not for sale to any person at any price, that it has not been for sale at any time during the past two years, that it will not be for sale during the next [illegible] years, that the present editor will continue in active and personal charge of the news and editorial departments of the paper, and that all reports to the contrary, peddled by cheap politicians who are somewhat irresponsible for what they say, from their insane desire for office, and all publications to the contrary, either by innuendo or directly, in rival papers, are wantonly and maliciously false.

It may be of interest to the public to know that the only stockholders of this paper are Mr. I. N. Stevens, editor of the Gazette, Mr. W. McK. Barbour, business manager of the Gazette; Mr. Walter L. Wilder, associate editor of the Gazette and Mr. C. V. Barton vice president of the Gazette company.

All of the owners of the Gazette are engaged in its publication, and no outside corporate interest, or aspiring politician, or business house, or promotion company owns a share of its stock, or has any claim of any kind upon its news or editorial columns.

The Gazette is run as a newspaper, and not as a side-show to other business enterprises, nor as an organ to boost the political ambitions of any man or set of men.

Instead of wishing to sell any part of the Gazette stock, the present owners have just increased their holdings by the purchase of Mr. Sachs' interest in the paper.

We are sorry to be compelled to trespass upon the time of our readers with this personal explanation. The Gazette never [illegible] anything in a news way or semi-news way about its contemporaries without getting the matter directly from the contemporaries, but the standard of ethics is not the same in all newspaper offices, and when our contemporaries print false reports about us we are forced to denounce them as such, and the more especially when such contemporaries do not take the pains or have the common courtesy to attempt to verify their statements or innuendoes at this office.

COLORADO AND ITS NEIGHBORS.

FOR MANY YEARS past Colorado has been recognized as the leader in everything that relates to the development of the Rocky mountain region. When mining was spoken of it was understood, unless otherwise specified, that the mines were in Colorado. When the agricultural possibilities of the great west were alluded to, it was naturally supposed that some Colorado irrigation matter was under discussion and the same was very largely true of manufacturing and other western industries.

Far to the north in Montana a separate center of investment and immigration was established but for three quarters of the width of the United States Colorado was the recognized headquarters.

This condition no longer exists to the same degree that it did formerly. New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho and Wyoming are attracting more of the public attention than they have ever done before and as the possibilities of those states and territories are understood, it becomes clearly apparent that the growth of the great west is not to be confined within the limits of any one of them, but that all have sufficient resources and opportunities for the building up of great and independent communities.

Colorado, however, remains and will continue to remain, the leader among the Rocky mountain states.

Thanks to her good fortune in attracting the attention of the world of capital, and the adventurous spirits who have been looking for golden opportunities, the progress of this state has been more rapid and more extensive than that of any of her neighbors.

No one of the states and territories above mentioned has anything like the complete railroad system that Colorado enjoys. None of them has reached the same degree of development in cities in mining in agriculture, in manufactures or in population.

Colorado has even gained the point, in spite of the many unimproved opportunities and surplus resources, where she has something that can be devoted towards the development and improvement of her neighbors.

At the present time Colorado capital and Colorado investors refuse to be limited by the state lines. The newest mining camp of the Rocky mountain region, Thunder mountain in Idaho already is feeling the benefit of the enthusiasm and energy of Colorado prospectors and promoters. The copper mines of Arizona, the gold mines of New Mexico the stock ranches of Wyoming, and the oil fields of Utah are receiving attention from Colorado capitalists.

The situation here outlined is a most favorable one. Colorado cannot hope to promote her own growth by checking that of her sister states, nor would it be wise for her to do so. On the contrary, this state will do most towards confirming its claim to be a leader among the Rocky mountain sisterhood, by doing all that it can to promote their growth and develop their resources. Colorado merchants, miners and manufacturers will all be benefited by the growth of our neighbors on the south, west and north. It is with them that our business must be largely done in the future. It is to them that we will look for the customers which will make our manufactories prosperous, and upon their help we must largely rely for the success of those enterprises, and the protection of those interests, in which we are all equally concerned.

It is fortunate for Colorado that this state is in a position to extend a helping hand to our neighbors, and it is fortunate for them that we are able to do so.

The six states forming the central Rocky mountain group are destined to become one of the most important and powerful sections of the entire country. Their interests differ in some material respects from those of the Pacific, northern and prairie states, and it is good wisdom and judgment to promote in every possible way a better understanding in their commercial, economic, political and social affairs.

POPE LEO'S JUBILEE.

LEO XIII. succeeded to the papacy in 1878. He was at that time 69 years of age. Few men in history have accomplished so much or left such a mark upon the age in which they lived, after reaching the age of 70 years as has this pope.

It would be interesting to consider what would have been the result if he had arrived at the supreme pontificate 20 years earlier. He has shown so much wisdom and such ability in his knowledge of things and of men, and in his dealings with them, that had he added to his vigor of mind a greater physical force, it seems likely that he would have accomplished much more notable results.

A large part of the impression made by Pope Leo XIII. upon the world, has been due to the encyclical letters which from time to time have been sent forth by him. These letters have dealt with the current topics and problems of the age. They have referred to such matters as marriage, the relations between capital and labor, the problems of socialism and anarchy, the rights of republics to enforce the loyalty of their citizens, and other kindred subjects of the most modern type.

The declarations of the pope upon these matters have been of such a nature as to command the respect and admiration of serious and impartial men of all creeds and races. He has shown himself to be broad-minded, tolerant and possessed of an unusual knowledge of human nature. Without abating anything from the traditional claims of the infallible pontiff, and the unique church, he has done more than any of his predecessors have done to bring the church into sympathy with modern and liberal ideas of politics and society, and by so doing he has greatly increased the power of the church in the modern world and its influence for good.

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his election to the papacy was generally observed throughout the Catholic world, and there were plenty of good reasons for the felicitations and congratulations that were so generally expressed.

GENERAL ENGLEY'S ACQUITTAL.

THE GAZETTE is sincerely pleased at the prompt discharge of ex-Attorney General Eugene Engley by Judge Cunningham, at the criminal trial recently closed in Cripple Creek.

General Engley was charged with subornation of perjury, and the only testimony against him was that of two self-confessed perjurers.

Judge Cunningham very properly ruled that the uncorroborated testimony of these witnesses was not sufficient to sustain a verdict against the defendant, and therefore there was nothing to submit to a jury.

At this distance from Cripple Creek, and without a full knowledge of the facts, the inspiration of the prosecution against General Engley appeared to savor very strongly of spite-work.

However much one may disagree with General Engley's views about public questions, there can be no doubt that he always speaks from deep convictions.

Erratic he may be (and the standpoint makes all of us either wise or foolish, depending entirely upon who is turning the kaleidoscope and which way it points), but honorable, sincere and loyal he certainly is.

Judge Cunningham is to be commended for declining to permit the criminal machinery of his court to be used for the blackening of private character upon any such flimsy testimony as that presented by the prosecution in the case against General Engley.

CECIL RHODES' WILL.

IN HIS WILL the great South African left the bulk of his fortune to the cause of education. The projected use of the money has not yet been made public in all its details, but it is said that it embraces every land under British rule, and that its purpose is the intellectual improvement of the British race throughout the world.

In selecting the object of his benevolence, Mr. Rhodes has followed the example of Cooper, Pearsons, Carnegie, and many another distinguished American of wealth, who have helped to make the world familiar with the good that may be done by building up great endowment funds for the purpose of making man better and happier by means of making him wiser.

That an immense amount of good can be accomplished by such a fund as the one established by Mr. Rhodes is unquestionable, and it will be interesting to compare the working out of his scheme with that of the National university at Washington, inaugurated by Mr. Carnegie.

Chaffee county, Colorado, is getting ready to engage in a lively contest over the removal of the county seat from its present location at Buena Vista to Salida. Salida not only has a larger population, but continues to grow much more rapidly than the other city, and outside of the two towns the eastern part of the county has a much larger population than the western. If the matter were to be settled by a majority vote, there is little doubt that Salida would win out, but the Colorado law makes a change of county seat a matter of great difficulty. Buena Vista is making a good fight to secure public sentiment on that side, and the prospect appears to be that the county seat will be retained in its present location.

A member of the house of representatives of Ohio has introduced a resolution providing for the acceptance by the state of Ohio of the two scholarships in Oxford university bequeathed to the state by Cecil Rhodes. This is the first acceptance. Ohio does not propose to get left. The Buckeye state seems to be living up to its reputation.

This is no "off year" in Ohio. Grosvenor has been renominated by acclamation, and Lentz will be allowed to rusticate at home.

The Boer war in South Africa has its dark side, undoubtedly. So has the bore war in the oil region about Boulder.

Iowa to the Front.

What now of Iowa? The Buckeye spirit has moved westward, and apparently it is in Iowa that we shall look for a repetition of the same thing. The brain and will of a prairie people have risen to a superb preeminence in the councils of the national capital. Problem: To explain that preeminence.

First among many causes ranks western— I may almost say Ohioan— inheritance, for Iowa is lineally descended from Ohio and states like Ohio. It has, to be sure, an impressive infusion of migrant New Englanders, but its main factors have from the beginning been chiefly made up of the western-born. When the children of Ohio arrived at man's estate there came upon them a great thirsting for pioneer opportunities. So in many another western commonwealth. To live and to toil in a ready-made world seemed not enough, they must find them a new frontier; they must forge their own destinies, build their own fortunes. So the prairie was opened to settlement.

Now the lesson of the prairie is not the lesson of the forest, and the early Iowans did not read the book of experience as the early Ohioans had read it. The prairie is flat and monotonous, and there was a corresponding flatness and monotony in the life of the first Hawkeyes: It lacked romance. It appealed scarcely at all to the gaudy-hued virtues of daring and endurance. It was easy, this peopling of the treeless plains, this tilling of virgin soils, and besides it was swift.

But if the prairie was level it was also very much of a piece in its geological composition. The material resources of Ohio are many and varied, the material resources of Iowa are best summed up in the terms of agriculture. In any corner of that "American Mesopotamia," you will hear three lusty nouns— corn, cow, hog— and having heard these you have heard all. Hence the natural result: the Iowans, being one vast guild of fellow-husbandmen, have lacked the intellectual stimulus that comes from contact between men of different callings. You can travel over their state, from Sioux City to Davenport, or from Dubuque to Council Bluffs, and not meet one brilliant mind or a single amazing character. Yet you will find everywhere a most commendable dead level of honesty, decency, practicality, good sense, and well-fed prosiness. And the world is so constituted that these simple, brown-colored virtues, properly compounded, spell political sanity. Add strength and there stands a statesman. No hot-head is he, instead you may trust him with the weightiest affairs of a nation. Neither will any man call him eccentric, he is as incapable of eccentricity as he is of brilliancy. You shall find him the very soberest of counselors.— (Rollin Lynde Hartt, in the World's Work.

The Advantages of Country Living.

If you get ever so rich, what do you do? Buy a farm somewhere. If you have the root of a good matter in you, you will want to poultice a worn spirit from time to time with the healing air and the restful scenes of the country. If you get ever so poor, what do you do? Work harder, probably, if you are fit to do anything and can find anything to do. But if you have a spirit of the requisite fiber, and have come to just the requisite degree of impecuniosity, and circumstances and your experience of life favor it, you go and live in the country. You can live very cheaply in the country if you choose, and possess your soul in complete independence, and wear your old clothes with a cheerful spirit. You will be quit of a host of obligations to fashion, to society, which may vex and oppress you in town, for the price of superfluities is by far the biggest item in the cost of ordinary living. You will miss opportunities, too, but not all opportunity. You will live face to face with nature. You will be able to say your prayers in peace, and develop the spiritual side of you if you have any, with only the smallest concern about landlords, grocers, or raiment. There are no taxes of any consequence in the country, think of that! The greatest luxury you get there is time, and the next greatest are sights and sounds and smells. If you have thoughts to think, the country gives you a great chance to think them. If you have books to read, you can read a lot of them in the country, even with kerosene at 11 cents a gallon.

On the other hand, if you have money to spend, what a chance to spend it the country offers you! Gardens, cows, horses, houses, stables, roads, milk at a dollar a gallon if you like, sheep, and dogs, and, most of all, children. It is no trouble at all to spend $50,000 a year on roads alone, if only you start with a fairly sharp land-hunger and push out your borders with due energy. You can get more for your money in roads than in diamonds or pictures, and roads are a permanent investment. They don't burn down; you don't have to keep them insured; you don't have even to keep them clean, for if you build them well, let the weeds grow ever so thick on them, the roads will be there still. And once you put your money into them, it stays. You can never get it out, nor can any one else. You cannot even be taxed adequately on them, for no assessor presumes to see much value in a road. Indeed, a very large sum of money can be hid in a country place where the assessors won't find it—in water-pipes, drains, and such things.— (E. S. Martin in Harper's Magazine for April.

Is Another European Uprising on the Way?

Are we on the eve of a great European uprising, like that of 1848? Conditions in Spain and Italy continue grave enough to justify the gloomiest prognostications. We know that conditions just falling short of actual outbreak and uprising are present in every province of Spain, and are near boiling or exploding point in all the larger cities—north, south, east and west alike. If the Cubans bore malice for the wrongs inflicted on them in the old days by Spain, they might look forward to seeing General Weyler called on to establish his infamous system of concentration camps in every Spanish province—for the threat of martial law may well indicate preparation for the more drastic expedient. A recent writer, though acknowledging that in Spain, as in Italy, state taxation is heavy, municipal rates are cruel and unfairly levied, wages are low and the price of food is high, yet says that it is a ridiculous mistake to attribute this condition to political causes. Yet to political causes it is undoubtedly in large measure due, and, first of all, to the military ambition of these poorer countries, seeking to stand on an equal footing with the armies of France, Germany and Russia, the three great war powers of the continent. Large armies mean a heavy taxation in two ways; in money, and in labor withdrawn from the impoverished soil. Add to this a very costly civil administration on the spoils system, a luxurious aristocracy claiming to be maintained in splendid idleness, and the immense drain on the country made by the revenues of the religious orders, which recently exceeded the whole civil revenue of the state, and it is hard to see how Spain could possibly be in any other condition than chronic poverty. All these are political causes of suffering, or causes which a wise policy might correct, therefore the resentment of the whole Spanish masses might very justly be turned against their rulers—a consideration which may at any moment appeal to the said masses, and to their sons who compose the armies of Spain. Practically the same thing, both in cause and in effect, is true of Italy. A complete revolution in both countries is only a question of time and opportunity.—(Harper's Weekly.

HENRY C. HALL ON THE LETTER TO THE CITY

Says That His Firm Seeks Only Protection for Its Rights and Has No Desire to Embarrass the City—Mr. Sheafor's Position.

The announcement in yesterday morning's Gazette that the law firm of Hall Babbitt and Thayer had sent a communication to the city concerning the proposed Seven Lakes reservoir created no little sensation around town yesterday

The city aldermen tried to pass the matter off as a newspaper yarn but were unable to get away from the fact published in the Gazette and which was borne out by Mr H C Hall of the firm of Hall Babbitt and Thayer yesterday

The communication from this firm was sent to City Attorney Sheafor who [illegible] three days ago It was brought up by the city attorney at the council meeting Monday night The communication deals not only with the land formerly owned by Colonel Apponyi but more particularly with the bill recently introduced in congress to sell to the city of Colorado Springs something like [illegible] acres of government land on the slopes of Pike's Peak The action of Hall Babbitt and Thayer is taken in behalf of the Seven Lakes and Pike's Peak Railway Co which was incorporated last spring and which has a right of way surveyed over government land The railroad is no need [illegible] such well known [illegible] as A Sutton William A Otis [illegible] P Shove Henry Hine Hall Babbitt and Thayer and other prominent citizens The firm of Hall Babbitt and Thayer as the legal representatives of the road are making the protest against the sale of this land to the city

The railway company intends to fight the purchase bill as now drawn up because it is alleged the bill will wipe out the right of way which has been surveyed it will fight the bill also on the grounds that the placer locations and lode claims filed on under the law of 1896 are valid In addition to this it appears that even if the bill passes the city will have difficulty in utilizing the ground for water purposes as the railroad company has a reservoir site down below which has a prior claim to the water flowing down The whole situation is set forth in the following interview granted a Gazette representative by Mr Hall yesterday afternoon

MR HALL'S STATEMENT OF THE SITUATION.

The bill to sell his land to the city was called to my notice but a short time ago I heard that Mr Sheafor had drawn up the bill and I sent over to his office and secured a chart of the land covered by it On comparing it with our maps I found that our right of way ran across several quarter sections of this land and that the placer and lode claims belonging to Colonel Apponyi were wholly included in this tract Colonel Apponyi was formerly a stockholder in the railroad company but as he was anxious to go to Mexico we bought his interest in the company and his claims last fall We now own the claims located by him and which have been kept up to date by assessment work The law has been complied with although the claims have not yet been patented

I wrote Mr Sheafor and called his attention to the fact that the bill if passed would damage our rights and as we had expended several thousand dollars on our right of way we were not willing to be wiped out without a protest I learned from Mr Sheafor that he had written to the land commissioner asking him to withdraw these lands from entry The commissioner replied that the lands were withdrawn from entry by the proclamation of the president in 1892 creating the Pike's Peak timber reserve But I find that in 1896 an act of congress threw this reserve open to mineral locations Under this provision Colonel Apponyi filed his claims He has expended a considerable amount of time and money on the claims and all the work required by law has been done faithfully

I understand that Mr Sheafor has asked the council for authority to have an amendment made to the bill granting our railroad its right of way but of course I do not know what transpired at the meeting last night

We have wired Senator Teller the circumstances and have written to Senator Patterson and Representatives Shafroth and Bell calling their attention to the fact that others claim rights under a general law in this locality We do this because a special law covering special land may over ride a general law governing public land which has been passed by the same body We have not asked our representatives at Washington to pay special attention to our rights in the matter but we have asked them not to pass a bill which may do an injustice to others claiming to have rights up there under the general laws of the country

I think the land commissioner must have overlooked the act of 1896 when he wrote to Mr Sheafor but of course I may be wrong in this'

The matter presented by Mr Sheafor to the council Monday night was relative to the purchase of land on which Apponyi's claims are located and over a part of which the right of way of the new railroad is surveyed

Mr Hall stated positively that he and his associates are not trying to play any dog-in the-manger game on the city

'We had our right of way surveyed first about a year ago last fall and then had a resurvey made about a year ago We had the survey made long before the city expressed any intention of buying the government land and it was but a few days ago that my attention was called to the fact that part of the land covered by our right of way and all of the lode and placer claims filed on by Mr Apponyi were included in the land proposed to be purchased by the city We who are in this railway project are citizens of Colorado Springs and have no desire to forestall the city in its efforts to extend its water system We have rights which have cost us several thousand dollars and we do not like to give them up for nothing

The plat of the right of way for the railroad has been filed with the land office at Pueblo as have also the location certificates for the lode and placer claims

RAILROAD HAS A RESERVOIR SITE BELOW.

Mr Hall said that his company had located a reservoir site on West Beaver creek and would construct a reservoir to store water sufficient to give 500 horsepower force to run its electric plant This reservoir site is on land that is not included in the tract which the city is desirous of purchasing If the city builds dams up above this site it will interfere with the flow of water down Beaver creek and will interfere with the rights of the railroad company in this respect Below the new railroad company's reservoir site is the big reservoir and dam of the Woods people and this also will be affected by any dams constructed by the city further up the creek In this connection Mr Hall said yesterday

'The city purchased no water rights when it bought the Seven Lakes and it will acquire no water rights with the new tract if this tract is purchased It is claimed that the city is entitled to a certain amount of water which flows down that side and which seeps from the Strickler tunnel Now the city is entitled to all the seepage it can keep from seeping away but as soon as the seepage gets loose it does not belong to the city

It appears to me that if the city attempts to build dams to stop the flow which now comes down from the Seven Lakes it is going to get mixed up in legal complications with the Woods people with our interests and with other people further down the mountain who have prior rights and who are putting the water to good account We will need only a small quantity of water and our reservoir will not interfere with those below us as the water will be passed on down the creek In storing up water in the winter time our reservoir will really be a benefit to the Woods plant down below us

The Woods people are not clients of ours and I do not attempt to speak for them but it looks to me as if the city will have considerable difficulty in utilizing its reservoir sites above us

MR SHEAFOR MAKES A SHORT STATEMENT

City Attorney Sheafor was asked for his opinion on the subject and spoke briefly but freely about it He said

Mr Hall sent a messenger over to me the other day to call my attention to the fact that he and his associates had surveyed a line of railroad through part of the land we desired to purchase I was also informed that Mr Hall and associates had purchased whatever interests Colonel Apponyi had in placer and lode locations up in that neighborhood

Mr Hall asked me to bring the matter to the attention of the council and I did so on Monday night We were in session until so late that night that I did not get an idea of the sentiment of the council I have not heard an expression of opinion on the matter from any aldermen Personally I would like to see an amendment to the bill granting the new railroad s claims to a right of way over this land

I did not consider the claim of Apponyi's interests in certain alleged placer and lode claims because I was informed by the commissioner of the land office that the land had all been withdrawn from entry

When asked his opinion about the act of 1896 opening the land to mineral locations Mr Sheafor replied that his attention had not been called to that act until the reporter spoke of it He said he took the commissioner's word for it and supposed the commissioner was thoroughly informed

The Seven Lakes & Pike's Peak Railway company intends to fight for its interests and has already begun an active campaign by communicating with the Colorado senators and representatives in Washington concerning the matter Mr Hall said the company would be willing to shift its right of way a little if it interfered with the city's plans concerning the ground but the company is not willing to forego all right and title in this land after spending so much money

IMPURE BAKING POWDER SEIZED.

The New York Board of Health Find It Contains Alum and Rock, Declare It Dangerous to Health and Dump It Into the River.

The New York papers report that the health department of that city has seized as dangerous to health nearly two tons of cheap mixtures sold for baking powder and dumped them into the offal scow to be destroyed More of the powder was found in a Sixth avenue department store The report of the analysis of the health department stated that it was "an alum baking powder' containing alum and pulverized rock

The different health authorities seem to have different ways of repressing the sale of bad baking powders In England they have prosecuted the grocers under the general law and broken up the traffic In Missouri the sale of alum baking powder is actually prohibited by law In New York they seize the unwholesome stuff and cast it into the river without any discussion The latter way is certainly effective

The alum baking powders are usually offered at a low price 10 to 20 cents a pound or with some prize as a temptation to the housewife

Consumers can protect themselves by buying only high-grade baking powder of established name and reputation Do not be tempted by the grocer to take something else as "just as good," or "our own brand," for the trials show that the grocer himself is often deceived by unscrupulous makers and is selling an alum powder without knowing it

There are several good powders on the market, let the housekeeper insist on having what she knows is right, and not be induced to risk the life of the family for an imaginary saving of a few cents.

BUTTINSKI'S INTERVIEWS

"We got about six inches of snow at Lake Moraine in the storm which has just passed," said City Engineer Case yesterday

"The lake is now within two feet of being full to the top and we have plenty of water for immediate use There is very little water coming down from further up the mountain as the ground is frozen solid and the snow is packed It will take the warm sun for a week or so hence to loosen the snow at that altitude The recent snow was quite wet and caused a considerable amount of water to run into the reservoirs.'

"After one more season," said Nat Goodwin at the Antlers yesterday, "Miss Elliott and I will head separate companies. Next season we will be together all right, reports to the contrary notwithstanding The plays which Clyde Fitch and Mrs Riley are now writing for Miss Elliott will not be presented next year, consequently we have another season in which to give our old repertoire.'

Mr and Mrs Goodwin and maid with several others of the company, arrived at the Antlers yesterday morning from Pueblo, and spent the day sightseeing in this city Manitou and the Garden of the Gods

Mr O H Shoup in discussing the policy of huge consolidations, which is coming into increased favor, said yesterday While the general principle of these mergers is a good one—combining many weak companies into one strong one there is one danger which must be guarded I refer to the inevitable disposition of the directors of the consolidated companies to concentrate their development work in one or two favorite places neglecting the extended acreage of the combine which has not such good promise. By following out this policy it will mean that a less general development will result than if, the properties had remained under the control of an individual corporation and had been leased without discrimination It has been the experience of the mining men that the more general is the activity in the district, the more prosperous the camp"

THE DECLINE IN PORTLAND

Reached a Price Yesterday Not Touched Before in Several Years—President Burns Interviewed.

Portland was the sensation of the mining stock market yesterday A heavy loss was suffered by Elkton but the decline in Portland to $1 74 a price which has not been known by these shares in years and under trading heavier than has been experienced in months, dominated all other matters of interest which the market presented

Briefly the rumors circulating on the floor of the exchange about this stock were these That the future prosperity of the mine depends upon the success with which the new mill is operated also that a very large production of high grade ore is being made at the present time The 400 men it is stated who are now employed in the property are taking out more money than was taken out by the original force of 600 men This is due to the necessity for meeting heavy payments on the mill and to the fact that only high grade ore is being taken out—ore which under no circumstances would be run through the company's mill It is so rich that it would have to go to the smelters anyway

President Burns was asked yesterday if the mine was in as good a condition as usual, and he replied that it had never been in a better condition "It is running itself practically" he stated, "as we have not yet chosen a successor for Superintendent Trevarthen but the property is in splendid condition, and everything is running smoothly"

"When will a new superintendent be chosen?" he was asked

"I can't tell you" he replied, "but we shall not get a man from Leadville We shall have some one who does not have to be taught how to mine in Cripple Creek"

"Are you anticipating any difficulty in saving the values at the new mill?" he was next questioned In connection with the rumor referred to before it was stated that the new mill might not prove so great a saving as was expected

"Our mill," stated President Burns most emphatically "is of the most modern in the country and I have several thousand dollars to bet that it will be found to save more values from Cripple Creek ores than any mill now treating rock from that camp We have not the slightest apprehension about the success of the mill when we make the trial run in about two weeks"

IN THE SCHOOL SECTION

Woods Investment Company Making Shipments From Work on Block Seven—Early Outlay Seems Justified.

The Woods Investment company is meeting with unabated success in the operations which it is conducting on the school section This portion of the camp has always been a favorite hunting ground for prospectors but profits have always been meager and unreliable The Woods Investment company however started work some time ago on block 7 with a modern equipment and sunk a considerable amount of money in preliminary work The introductory outlay is being rapidly retrieved several shipments having been marketed During the past week four carloads have been sent out and others are now loading The company is also pushing development work three new machine drills having been added to the equipment yesterday Undoubtedly the success of the Woods boys will encourage others to undertake a more thorough form of development than has previously been expended

THREE REGULAR DIVIDENDS

Gold Coin, Consolidated Mines and New Zealand Met Yesterday and Declared Their Usual Amounts Aggregating $58,000.

The directors of three companies controlled by the Woods Investment company met in Victor yesterday afternoon and declared the usual dividends from the Gold Coin Consolidated Mines and New Zealand aggregating a little over $58,000 The dividend of the Gold Coin is at the rate of three cents per share amounting to $30 000 the Consolidated Mines dividend amounts to $19 000 being at the rate of one cent per share while that of the New Zealand company turns something over $9 000 also at the rate of one cent per share The original amount dispensed by this company was $7[illegible]0 but since that time there has been an additional issue of stock There is still about 100 000 shares in the treasury

The Consolidated Mines and New Zealand companies have lately been merged into a new corporation with a capitalization of 4,000,000 shares the ratification of the deal to take place next month At that time it may be necessary to pass the dividends as it was necessary a year ago when the Consolidated Gold Mines and Bull Hill Consolidated companies were merged It was thought that the dividend might also be passed today but this was dispelled by the action of the directors The dividends will not be passed for more than one month

The outstanding capitalization of the new company will amount to something like 4 000 000 shares and a dividend of 1 cent per share will be paid amounting to $40 000 monthly $12 000 more than the aggregate which is now paid by the Consolidated Mines and New Zealand The Consolidated Mines and New Zealand stockholders will receive the same amounts as heretofore however as share for share in the new company is exchanged The other $12 000 will be divided up between the other companies entering the consolidation This is the most advantageous feature of the merger and has been most favorably commented on in mining circles namely that several smaller companies which have never earned and probably would not for some time earn dividends will now share in the profits For instance the Battle Mountain stockholders will receive a dividend of one fifth of one cent a share every month as they receive one share of new stock for every five of the old

LEASE ON COLORADO BOSS

Directors of the Cripple Creek Cons. Co. Grant Rights to F. C. Whitford—25 Per Cent Royalties.

The directors of the Cripple Creek Consolidated company granted a lease on the south 200 feet of the Colorado Boss claims Nos 1 and 2 yesterday to F C Whitford Mr Whitford has these claims from their southern extremity where the ground adjoins the Hollister block on the Colorado Boss No 3 The lease stipulates that 25 per cent flat royalties be paid that 15 feet feet of work be accomplished each month either in sinking or drifting and the contract runs for two years Mr Whitford asserts that he has located a good place to find ore and intends to go after it vigorously He will probably sink a new shaft if he receives any encouragement from his work

The Hollister lease is proving very productive two more cars of ore having just been marketed At the offices of the company in this city returns were received yesterday from a consignment of 30 tons which was marketed from this lease last week Of this amount 25 tons was settled for at the rate of $23 60 in gold to the ton, while the remaining lot of five tons brought $52 [illegible]0 per ton

The company has been receiving a comfortable amount in the way of royalties during the past few weeks and the income will more than meet the heavy taxes which were levied against the Consolidated this year During March about $400 was received from the lessees

On the Terrill and Burke lease on the north block of the Bosses 1 and 2, work is progressing very slowly there still being some friction between the lessees which prevents the best mining Enough work is being done, however to keep the lease valid

ADAMSON TALKS OF MAGNOLIA

Says the Districts is in a Good Condition at the Present Time and That Good Ores Are Being Secured.

Mr Lloyd N Adamson the well-known Colorado and Alaska mining man returned yesterday from Boulder county where he went to examine some properties near Magnolia some 10 miles west of Boulder in behalf of local and eastern capitalists Mr Adamson was much pleased with the result of his examinations having found some valuable indications which will probably result in a transaction of some magnitude

"I have been familiar with the mining situation in Boulder county for 25 years" Mr Adamson stated "and I was extremely pleased with the way operations are being conducted in the district I believe that the results which are now being obtained by many of the mines in the county will attract a large amount of capital to the various camps within the next year Magnolia itself is flourishing The American Cash and Kekionga mines are constantly shipping and there are other properties coming along The ores of the district are tellurides of gold with values averaging from $15 to $1 000 per ton

On his way back from Cape Nome last year Mr Adamson stopped in the Thunder mountain district and will probably return to that section this year

"It will be some weeks however" he said, "before I would think of trying to get in although I am accustomed to the rigors of an Alaskan winter The snows lie extremely deep and they are falling still even more heavily and lastingly than they are throughout Colorado at this time of the year It will be very profitless as well as hazardous for any one to attempt the journey before June"

MINING NOTES AND NEWS

HILL'S NEW HAND BOOK WAS ISSUED YESTERDAY.

Hills Official Manualette which has been expected for some time was issued yesterday and is one of the most complete handbooks of Cripple Creek mines and companies yet put out Mr Hills is well known as the author and compiler of the Official Manual which has been ever since it appeared the recognized authority of Cripple Creek mines The small book combines even more information than is to be found in the large one giving complete data in regard to the physical and financial conditions of 683 companies and properties The book will probably be more valuable and more popular than the larger one for although it has no maps, it sells for only 25 cents

ASSESSMENT INSURANCE PETITION CIRCULATED

A petition was put into circulation yesterday among the brokers requesting the governing committee to take action in regard to the proposed system of assessment insurance which has been advocated by many prominent members of the exchange. It is believed that the inauguration of such a plan would give a permanent value to the seats. At the meeting of the members held last week the plan was discussed and fully nine-tenths were in favor of it. Before taking action on the amended articles however, the governing committee is desirous of getting the sentiment of the members expressed in black and white and also of determining the exact number who are in favor of the innovation

GRAFTON COMPANY MAY LEASE ON HOOSIER

The directors of the Grafton Gold Mining company have granted two sets of prospectors the right to go into the north end of the Hoosier claim to look for a lead After a stipulated time if they are satisfied that they have indications worth following up the company will grant them a formal contract requiring of them, however, thorough work The Hoosier claim is considered to be excellent open ground with good opportunities for opening a shipper The directors are considering other applications and it is likely that other leases will be granted within a short time The company in its own operations is meeting with much success

MARY McKINNEY DUMP LESSEES ARE SHIPPING

A shipment was sent out by the lessees working on the Mary McKinney dump on Monday The consignment consisted of one car of low grade ore and is to be followed up by a similar one next week The lessees are going over the big rock pile and finding that values are quite easily saved The Doctor-Jack Pot company and other corporations owning large dumps have recently granted similar privileges to operators until there is now scarcely a dump in the district which has not its leasers In this way private persons are enabled to make a good profit, while the companies find that rock which had been considered nothing but waste is suddenly given a value to them in royalties

PAR VALUE HOLDERS ARE DIVIDED AMONG THEMSELVES

There is a fight on between two factions of the celebrated Par Value company owning a lease on a thin slice of the Monument claim One faction believes that the work should be prosecuted in this way the other that it should be carried on in that each appointing its own superintendent to carry out the particular ideas of each schism Naturally when the two superintendents came to execute the plans of their constituents there was a conflict and this has just been taken into the courts Judge Seeds has recognized David Heaton granting him an injunction on bonds of $3 000 restraining Superintendent Hansbaugh from interfering with operations on the property

FIVE HUNDRED FEET ON THE DENVER LODE

A new shaft is to be sunk on the Denver lode, on Howell hill covering what is believed to be the south extension of the Independence dike Boston investors have agreed to put up sufficient funds to carry the shaft to a depth of 500 feet, from which depth the property will be thoroughly explored Much money has been spent south of the Independence mine and little ore has so far been taken out Mining men attribute the barrenness of the southern extension in this part of the camp to the fact that invariably do the shoots pitch north Investors however are persistent in their belief that ground adjoining a great mine must be valuable and are willing to back their fallacy

LOOKING FOR OIL IN PUEBLO COUNTY

Colorado Springs people are putting capital into oil near Pueblo as well as in other parts of the state, as appears from the fact that the Colorado Securities company has a tract of 7,000 acres northwest of Pueblo on which they are drilling for oil with very favorable prospects

Some time ago parties attempted to put down a well for water, but when they found it it was so strongly impregnated with oil that the well was abandoned as useless It is on this property that the Colorado Securities company is conducting its operations, the territory being adjacent to that of the Steel City Oil company, which also has every indication of success in its work The officers of the company are W I Weaver of Pueblo president, J M Parker vice president E A Sunderlin Jr secretary and treasurer, who with H K Devereux and R C Thayer constitute the directorate

ANGLO-COLORADO GUIDE ON THE INDEPENDENCE

The Anglo-Colorado Mining and Milling Guide dated March 31 has just been received in the city, containing several London criticisms of the Stratton's Independence affairs although these date before the report of Mr Hammond was cabled saying that the ore reserves were exhausted and development work unsatisfactory Mr Hammond is criticised for the alleged inaccuracy of his first reports on the mine as revealed in subsequent developments An interesting item in the issue refers to the Lillie, the stockholders of which, it is averred have still to be informed of the fact that the rich shoot has pitched into an adjoining property Local mining circles have been so long aware of this fact that the complaint of English stockholders that they have a right to know it if it be true comes as a distinct surprise There is much comment in mining circles here over the injustice to Cripple Creek as well as to Lillie stockholers if the stockholders are suffered to remain in ignorance of their loss

GOOD VALUES SECURED ON THE LAST CHANCE

Lessee Hawkins operating the Last Chance of the Mobile company finds that his electric hoist gives perfect satisfaction and he is able to get out a good amount of ore from the very start His second consignment was marketed Monday and he expects to be able to get out a third before the end of the week maintaining shipments twice a week thereafter He has opened a very good shoot of ore in the 300 foot level and although no returns have as yet been received on the ore it is expected that the values will run better than $25 in gold to the ton

VINOL CURES

As Indicated By A Hacking Cough. Vinol Will Cure Lung Affections.

When you have a cough you are continually fearing something worse.

Do not let yourselves get in this condition Come and talk to us and let us tell you why we know Vinol is the best thing that you can take for a hacking cough with a tendency to lung trouble.

One of the greatest remedies that has ever been prescribed by physicians for consumption and all wasting diseases is cod liver oil You know how disagreeable it is to take We have actually seen people who would rather take their chances than to take that medicine. Now with Vinol this is al different To be sure it owes its value to the fact that it contains in a highly concentrated form the valuable medicinal properties that have made cod liver oil famous for such diseases but let us remind you that it does not contain any oil or grease that makes the old form of cod liver oil so objectionable and often so impossible to a weakened stomach.

Try our Vinol if you are experiencing any bronchial or lung trouble It does not upset the stomach It will do that organ good, not only by creating an appetite but by enabling it to better assimilate the food that is taken into it. It will increase the nourishing properties of this same food, so that the system will take up all the elements it needs to make rich red blood and firm flesh

When this is done the doors of the system are closed against consumption, and any existing irritation or diseased membrane will be cured

Mr Thomas Morton Stillwater, Maine, says "My grandson has been troubled with a bad cough lately and learning that Vinol was good for all pulmonary ills, I got a bottle of it for the boy All I can say is that it proved just the medicine he needed He now feels much better, and his cough has disappeared"

The reason we promise to refund the cost of Vinol, to all who do not experience the benefits that we claim it will bring about, is because we know by experience that it invariably accomplishes everything we claim for it. It is very successful

Vindicator, however, was weak at $1 and Work sold at 6½. The prospect stocks were lightly traded in, and manifested few features. The losses in the mines list were not without their effect on the smaller companies, and where the shares declined cents on the first board they were inclined to lose fractions on the second. Sunset-Eclipse was especially weak at 6⅞, the lowest these shares have been quoted at since the consolidation, was made. C. K. & N. was an exception to the prevailing low prices, selling to the amount of 10,000 shares at 5½, a gain over yesterday's quotation.

SCROFULA.

"Scattered consumption" is a good way of describing this disease. It is in fact a real consumption of the little glands under the skin.

Scott's Emulsion cures it. Scott's Emulsion is good for all kinds of consumption but especially good for scrofula.

It heals the sores—but doesn't stop there for the weakness and loss of flesh is the worst part of scrofula.

Scott's Emulsion feeds and strengthens scrofulous children.

EASTERN MARKETS

New York Stock Market.

By Associated Press.

New York, April 15.—The dimensions of trading in Southern Railway stocks today eclipsed any ever before seen on the New York Stock exchange. The total number of shares of common stock outstanding is 1,200,000. The dealings recorded in the stock today were to the number of 864,500 shares. On April 24, 1901, Union Pacific was dealt in to the extent of 662,800 shares, during the struggle between the Morgan and Harriman interests in the trans-continental field. That figure was far in excess of any previous days dealings in a single stock until today. The tremendous day's dealings dwarfed the rest of the market and yet there were a number of other stocks in which the dealings were on a scale only seen during periods of great speculative activity. The opening in Southern Railway was quiet enough and the opening bulge in L. & N. to nearly four points over last night awakened some momentary skepticism if the overnight reports of a settlement of the dispute for the control of L. & N. But the parties in interests were already in consultation when the stock market opened and there was a scurrying of brokers from the neighborhood of the consultation rooms. Immediately buying orders appeared in Southern Railway for seemingly unlimited amounts of the stock. The movement in the stock did not become wild at any time in spite of the extreme advance of 6¼ points to 40½. The reactionary tendency of Louisville & Nashville was also a convincing demonstration that the struggle for that stock had terminated and the scramble to get out by the smaller operators who had followed the deal carried it down by successive stages to 125½. The last price, however, left it at 127, a net loss of only a point. Southern Railway suffered at the last from the profit-taking on the professional element which bought the stock recklessly but were apparently not disposed to remain in it overnight in face of the many possible contingencies still open in the situation. The reaction carried Southern Railway back to 37¾ and it closed only 1⅛ higher at a net gain of 3⅝. The preferred stock gained 3¼. The extent of the public information when the stock market closed was contained in the formal statement by the Gates element that they had bought control of L. & N. and that they proposed to leave the settlement of the dispute to J. P. Morgan & Company, as arbiters. This was accepted as conclusive evidence that Southern Railway would be benefited by the settlement. The heavy buying of that stock was by brokers usually employed by the inside interests. But the volume of the dealings was sufficient indication that everybody who could get orders executed shared in the buying. The movement in Illinois Central and in Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville, were directly in sympathy with that in Southern Railway. It is supposed that Illinois Central will be allowed to share in the benefit of the Louisville absorption and that Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville will possibly form a connecting link to Chicago. The very large buying of St. Paul was supposed to be due to a removal of the campaign for a rise by the element which bought Louisville. There was some strength in the other grangers and Pacifics and in Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio. Amalgamated Copper advanced at one time over a point but did not hold it. There were notable advances in specialties here and there, International Power rising nearly 12 points. But there were also points of weakness and outside of the congested centers of activity there was not a notable demand for stocks. There was some stiffening of the money rate again but the continued calmness of the money market through the day relieved the apprehension that was felt lest the enormous speculation should develop a stringency. The easing of the exchange market indicates that borrowing in foreign markets was being freely resorted to. General considerations received little attention. The market closed irregular under realizing.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, $4,990,000.

U. S. bonds were all unchanged.

The Metal Market.

By Associated Press.

New York, April 15.—Dealings in copper under the new rule was inaugurated today at the New York metal exchanges. The trades amounted to 150 tons for July delivery at $11.20@11.15. It was considered that the trading was started under favorable conditions. The local market for copper was rather easy but quiet and unchanged. Spot lake was quoted at 12¼, electrolytic 12⅛ asked and casting 12 asked. The London copper market closed 15s lower with spot and futures at £53, 2s 6d. The London tin market was 2s 6d higher, with spot at £126, 17s 6d, and futures at £124, 10s. The local market ruled firm with spot at $28.00. Lead ruled steady and unchanged here at 4⅛ and London was unchanged at £11, 11s 3d. Spelter was firm and unchanged here at $4.45. London gained 2s closing at £17, 15s. Iron steady and unchanged here but trifle in English markets.

London Market.

By Associated Press.

New York, April 15.—Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram: The stock market was more active and strong in peace hopes. English rails are returning to favor. Consols fluctuated between 94⅝ and 95. There is some doubt as to the form of the issue and the close was at the worst as it is understood that the loan will be in consols £32,000,000, at 94, equivalent to 93½, allowing for a bonus of the first quarter's interest. It is understood that the loan is already underwritten by the Morgans and Rothschilds. The prospectus is expected to morrow. American stocks opened good, reacted and recovered in the afternoon under the leader of Southern Railway which jumped five points on New York's heavy buying. This confirmed the belief that the Southern is acquiring Louisville & Nashville, some say on a basis of 120 and others think 50 nearer the figure. The close was excited, but not at the top. Copper shares were dull, on a fall of the metal to £53⅛ the ton. Money is wanted for bank repayments and a call for £6,000,000 on the imperial tobacco shares.

LAURA LEE LEASE

Half Interest Sold for a Good Figure to Lesher and Walleser—Excellent Showing of Ore.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, April 15.—A one-half interest in the Peterson & Stone lease on the Laura Lee, on Mineral hill, was sold today for a good figure to R. M. Lesher and John Walleser. R. M. Lesher, one of the new owners, recently sold his interest in the lease upon the Addie C., adjoining the Laura Lee. He states that there is now four feet of excellent grade ore showing in the 100-foot level of the Laura Lee and that two shifts will at once be put to work sinking and upraising on the vein. Returns were received today from a trial shipment of 1½ tons recently sent out from this property. Of this amount one ton was second grade ore and returned $94. The balance was high grade and returned $1 per pound, or $1,000. There is a report current tonight that Lesher and Walleser purchased one-half interest in the lease for the Sunset Consolidated Mining company, in which J. R. McKinnie, Daniel Weyand and other prominent Colorado Springs mining men are interested. All ground in the vicinity of the Addie C. and Laura Lee is under lease and this section of the camp presents a scene of great activity.

Mike Burke, leasing a block of the Anaconda company's Gold hill acreage, has made a rich find that promises to return him big money. In a crosscut 40 feet below the tunnel level, the lessee has struck the old shoot which was opened above the tunnel level, and from which R. P. Russell took out thousands of dollars worth of ore. It is reported tonight that Burke has nine feet of ore and that assays taken today give values of better than two ounces.

A good showing is being made by the lessees operating on the old Buena Vista shaft of the Isabella. Babbitt & Co., who have a lease from the surface to the sixth level, have closed a shipment of 25 tons which is expected to return $50 a ton to the lessees. The ore came from an old stope in an upraise from the second level. LaKamp and Vincent who have a lease on the block 300 feet north of the Buena Vista shaft, have closed a shipment consisting of one carload of ore that is expected to return 2½ ounces to the ton. This ore was saved while sinking the shaft to the depth of 12 feet, and the prospects of the lessees are very bright. The vein they are sinking on is fully two feet in width and is all ore.

Considerable development work is being done by Carl Johnson, operating a lease on the Kitty M. of the Anaconda company. The lessee is now drifting up the hill on a dike that has a course east and west. He is driving for the junction of it with a north and south vein, where he expects to encounter an ore shoot. The dike he is working on is the same that passes through the Half Moon and from which he mined over one-half a million dollars worth of ore some years ago. In the 130-foot level Lessee Johnson is breaking some very fair ore from a streak about 10 inches in width.

C. J. Perkins, leasing on the Compromise of the New Zealand company, has cut a strong fluorine stained vein at a depth of 50 feet. The strike was made while the lessee was sinking for the flat vein of the Deadwood. The new find is about 2½ feet in width, and it is expected that the Deadwood vein will be found but a few feet underneath it.

Douglas & Cox, leasing on blocks 21 and 22 of the Gettysburg claim of the Independence Cons., are now drifting up the hill at the depth of 300 feet in the hope of catching the southern extension of the main Deadwood ore shoot.

Many leases are being granted these days in the camp and in nearly every instance the royalties stipulated for are favorable both to the lessees and to the owners of the territory. It was but a few months ago that mining men found it impossible almost to give any leases on their ground, but tonight a well-known operator stated that there were more applications for leases at the present time than at any time during the past several months.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, April 15.—Speculation in grains was of an erratic nature again today. Doubts as to the possible effect of the British import duties on breadstuffs mixed the wheat traders early and other influences pressed prices down somewhat, while a break at St. Louis hurt corn there. Just before the close, however, wheat began to skyrocket and corn tailed after. May wheat closed 1⅛@1⅝c higher, May corn 1¼c up and May oats ⅛c advance. Provisions gained a shade to 10 cents.

One on the President.

The clubs in Washington are having much amusement over an incident of Prince Henry's recent visit which appears to have escaped the notice of the "Argus-eyed reporters." As the story goes, President Roosevelt wished to do the nation's guest, in private, a compliment which the formalities of his public entertainment put out of the question—to-wit, to prove to him that the people's drink of the fatherland had won as sure a foothold in the new world as it had long enjoyed in the old. To this end the president ordered from a leading German restaurant a supply of Wurzburger Hofbrau for an informal supper which was to be served at the White house. As the table equipment of our republican palace does not include the covered steins necessary to give this beer its proper relish, the same restaurateur was directed to furnish several of the finest specimens from his own stock. When the prince was brought to the table he found the beer already in place each stein being filled to the brim and ready for action. It was a most pleasant surprise, which he attested by proposing a merry round of healths. As he drained the last drop and was about to set down his stein his eye was caught by something on the bottom of it and his face relaxed. He cast a glance of quizzical alarm, first toward the president and then toward the door, as if he more than half expected a raid from the constabulary. His companions, consumed with curiosity, tipped their steins and peered in, too. In rich blue capital letters, burnt into the clay, this inscription stared up at them from the depths: "Stolen from Heidelberg's Deutsche Wirthschaft, 8863 Pennsylvania avenue."—(Harper's Weekly).

The South African David and Goliath

Presumably it is excusable to grin at General Lord Methuen's capture by the Boers. They say his lord-generalship is a charming gentleman and a gallant soldier, but he isn't a lucky general. Boer sympathizers will rejoice and give thanks for his capture, which certainly was a pretty feat for "guerrillas." British sympathizers will say bad words and grit their teeth. The rest of us, patient neutrals, who detest and disapprove the war and wish it was over, will merely grin. It is not in neutral human nature to grudge the Boers such hard-won successes as their generals may win; and yet, if, as we are assured, British final success is a foregone conclusion and every successful feat of Boer arms delays the end, it does not seem logical to be boisterously glad over General Delarey's exploit. A neutral has such mixed and unsatisfactory feelings about that war. It might do England good, morally, to be beaten off, but how would it affect the future of Africa? All the neutral can do is to mind his own business, grunt now and again grin, read columns and colums of conflicting statements, wonder which, if either, is the Lord's side and then wonder whether the Lord prefers that his side should sustain, the perils of success or the discipline of defeat. But no neutral can help grinning at unlucky Methuen. We have to smile when David brings Goliath down and Methuen is the part of Goliath in this story. His capture seems well adapted to check the British disposition to try "Cape rebel" officers by court-martial and hang them. There may be good reasons why Delarey should not hang Methuen whenever Kitchener hangs Kruitzinger, but they are not immediately obvious and require exposition.

Does any neutral know what to believe about the South African detention camps? We get dreadful stories about them from the Boer side, and though the British explanations are considerably explanatory, there are so many stories and so many deaths of women and children that the explanations have hard work to keep up. Julian Ralph says the war has been written up beyond all precedent, and that one reason why it seems worse than other wars is that we know so much about it. It certainly seems very bad, and if we have been wasting enthusiasm over war heretofore for lack of acquaintance with its incidents, it is as well perhaps that we got to know it better.—(Harper's Weekly.

COLORAO CITY, APRIL 15 1902

NEW COUNCIL MEMBERS ELECTED

Colorado City Board Elected Three Republicans Which Makes a Republican Administration for the Next Year.

The city council—what was left of it—met in adjourned session at the council chamber last night and was called to order by Mayor Faulkner. As the terms of three aldermen one from each ward had expired at midnight Sunday night the first and only business which could be transacted was the election of three aldermen to fill the vacancy thus created. Nominations being declared in order they were made as follows

Ward one C W Hill
Ward two F C Strott
Ward three John Neiswinter

There being no other nominations the election proceeded and the result was the unanimous election of the above named who will serve for the next year.

Messrs Neiswinter and Strott being present were at once sworn in by the mayor and took the seats allotted to their respective wards.

Previous to the election of the new aldermen the following resolution was introduced by Alderman Corporan and passed unanimously

Whereas The retirement of our esteemed fellow citizens Messrs Clyde Alum [illegible] McCrory and L E Miller from the office of alderman of the city of Colorado City Colo presents a suitable opportunity of expressing the esteem in which we hold them as faithful public servants therefore be it

Resolved That the thanks of this meeting and the community are due them for the able manner in which they have uniformly performed their public duties

Resolved That they carry with them on leaving their positions the regard and earnest good wishes of all who had occasion to transact official business with them

Resolved That the city clerk be and is hereby instructed to transmit to them a copy of the preamble and resolutions adopted also to spread the same upon the minutes of this meeting

J D Faulkner
Mayor
R O Brien
F P Slutter
C F Corporan
Holdover Aldermen

Messrs Hill Strott and Neiswinter are all Republicans which insures a Republican administration for this city for the next year. The appointments give general satisfaction to all the people. Mr Hill is a carpenter employed at the Midland shops. Mr Strott is a contractor and builder well known as the architect of the Waycott Opera house and the new McIntosh building and Mr Neiswinter is a steam fitter and plumber in business on West Colorado avenue

Went Over Precipice on the Ute Pass Road

While driving down Ute pass Sunday after noon during the blinding snow storm then raging Mr and Mrs John Wellman met with a mishap that only by good luck was devoid of serious consequences. Coming around one of the short turns at a pretty [illegible] gait the horse Mr Wellman was driving slipped and tumbled over the embankment landing in the creek below. The violence of the fall stripped the animal of its harness and left the buggy and its occupants standing on the very edge of the bank with the front wheels hanging over the 20 foot precipice. When it was seen that the horse was going over Mr Wellman jumped and helped his wife to the ground on the fly as he expressed it and both sustained minor bruises from their hurried exit from the vehicle. The horse came up unassisted out of the gully and with good horse sense permitted its driver to patch up the tattered harness and brought the party to the city only about an hour behind schedule time. Mr Wellman declares that it was the parting of the dilapidated harness that saved himself and wife from various kinds of hurts and bruises and perhaps something worse

Officers Raided an Opium Den

The authorities of the city have been for some time of the opinion from the actions of several parties in certain resorts that there was a hop joint in this vicinity but the most careful search has so far failed to reveal its whereabout. That is search would not reveal it until Sunday at which time as a result of most careful work on the part of the marshal and his assistants a house on West Washington street was raided and a complete hop outfit for six people captured. The place was run by a Chinaman and several inmates were taken in the act of hitting the pipe. The paraphernalia was taken to police headquarters and all day yesterday was the object of most curious scrutiny by many callers. No arrests were made as it is the intention of the authorities to allow this warning for this one time—after this they say that all inmates and proprietors of such a resort will be brought before the court and dealt with according to law no matter who or what they may be, as no opium den will be allowed in this city and those who patronize the same will do so at their peril

Bank President Back From East

President M T Burwell of the Citizens State bank of this city returned Sunday from his vacation visit in the east where he went something over two weeks ago. He was seen this morning and reported a most enjoyable time and one which yielded him the results of some very favorable financial transactions. He spent the most of his time in Illinois and returning stopped in Kansas City and visited the Live Stock show stopped at Newton Kansas for a day or two and now is back in the harness determined more than ever to make the Citizens bank the foremost of the institutions of its kind in the state of Colorado

Asked with regard to his work in spreading the fame of this city while absent Mr Burwell said that at all times he was working with an eye single to the interest of the city and its needs and during the absence had paid particular attention to the need of a good hotel here having promoted this proposition to the limit every where—and he says that he has interested a half dozen good hotel men in the matter each of whom says that in the near future he intends to come here and look over the ground. Mr Burwell says that there is scarcely any doubt but that he has found the right man for the hotel but here he stopped and would say no more as it is not thought advisable to give out any names at the present time

Mr Burwell looks well and has the appearance of a man who has enjoyed his vacation thoroughly

Dice Game Trial in Justice Court

Two hours of the time of the local justice of the peace were taken up yesterday afternoon with the hearing of the case of the people vs Howard Hayes and James Thomson on complaint of George P Heigel a telegraph operator on the Short Line who claims to have been touched in a dice game in a West Colorado avenue resort on the 12th of last month. Heigle on the stand admitted that he had reached the city the night before and had been drinking and carousing around all night without sleep and that after he had gone into this place in the morning and had a few drinks he again got to shaking dice for a dollar a throw. He then says that he remembers nothing more until he woke up minus his valuables and money. Other testimony was introduced to the effect that he had pawned the property in question to the defendants or one of them and after the witnesses had all been heard the court discharged one of the defendants bound over Hayes to the district court in the sum of $500 and granted a change of venue to Thomson whose trial will come up in Judge Faulkner's court at a date not yet fixed. Deputy District Attorney Black handled the prosecution of all and the defense was looked after by Dustin & Edmonston of this city and Attorney Lombard of the Springs.

Badly Hurt at Standard Mill

A serious accident happened to Mr W M Davis an employe of the Standard mill on Sunday evening which came near resulting fatally. Mr Davis was standing by the elevator shaft with his hand upon the rope when the rope was pulled causing Davis to lose his balance and fall headlong down the shaft some 20 feet in distance, tearing his scalp open in two places and almost resulting in a fracture of the skull. The injured man was taken to his home on Grant avenue, near Fourth street, and his injuries attended by the company physician, Dr Turpin who says that the injuries are serious and it was a close call, but that if no unforseen complications arise the patient will soon be on the road to recovery

ORPHEUS CLUB HELD A SMOKER

The Orpheus club, the new musical organization which was started a few weeks ago, gave an enjoyable smoker at its rooms in the rear of the Knight-Campbell music store last night

A short rehearsal of the club was held at 7 30 and at 8 30 the smoker began. Each member of the club took a friend to the affair and a jolly evening was spent. Refreshments were served

The Orpheus club has been rehearsing faithfully on new music and expects to give a concert in this city in the near future. The voices are being well drilled and the chorus work has attained a high degree of excellence. This concert will be one of the musical treats of the year and will doubtless cause the club to spring into great popularity in this city

RETURNED—Mr Thurlow Mier, who has spent some time on the Pacific coast, is back from his trip and believes that Colorado is good enough for anybody.

NO MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

On account of the illness of President Beyle, of the chamber of commerce no meeting of that body was held last night, although several members met at the bank building and held an informal discussion on the matters which are now under consideration. Some talk was had regarding the Rowe park but as the owners are not yet here no recommendations can be made until after consultation with them. The baseball question was discussed and it is likely that some assistance will be tendered in this matter as it is admitted as being a good thing for the city. Several other minor matters were discussed all informally, and the meeting adjourned to meet at the next regular date a week from next Monday night

RETURNED WITH DUCKS GALORE

A number of local nimrods went to the regions near Lamar last week in search of ducks. In this party were included John S Allam C A Sheets H F and B R Wheaton. A careful canvass of the party brings the statement that the sum of their achievements was a total of [illegible] ducks including the mud hens which one of the party mistook for canvas backs not discovering the difference until his arrival at home. The party returned at an early hour Sunday and were busy all day Monday distributing the fruits of their labors among their numerous friends. They say that there is plenty of small duck in the vicinity of the lakes at Lamar and advise all their friends to go and do likewise

VICTOR EAGLES WILL ATTEND BALL HERE

Although Sunday was interspersed with rain and snow and although disagreeable for an outing yet the Eagle excursion to Victor was largely attended by members of the Eagle order and others of the city. The train departed at 9 15, heavily loaded with excursionists reaching Victor in the midst of a heavy snow storm but not cooling the ardor or enthusiasm of the visitors who were given possession of the town and a right royal time they enjoyed the Victorites extending the glad hand and giving the invaders the freedom of their hospitable city. The new aerie of Eagles was duly instituted with a membership of 150 charter members and not an untoward incident marred the pleasure of the day. Incidentally the Eagles from this city did good missionary work in the cause of their ball which is scheduled for the Waycott opera house on the evening of May 16 and on that occasion the district will likely send down a special train of Eagles and others to participate in the grand event. Certainly May 16 will witness one of the grandest balls that has ever taken place in Colorado City

CLYDE—WILL DON'T WORK—WON'T

About two weeks ago the authorities under the determination to cleanout all the rough characters which have been infesting the city for months past picked up a colored man named Clyde Rogers who had been annoying the good people for some time, and he was arraigned in police court on the usual charge of vagrancy. The judge in pursuance of the policy above mentioned gave the gentleman a few hours to leave the city but it is said that he went out and made his brags that he didn't have to leave till he got ready. Sunday night he was again found wandering the streets and in some of his usual haunts and the authorities again took him to the place of safe keeping which the city in its wisdom has provided. At the usual hour Monday morning he appeared at police court and was in a very penitent mood. He was also ready to leave the city which fact he imparted to the judge in the most unmistakable terms—in fact he wanted to start at once or sooner. But this time it was the judge who didn't have to and after a short argument in which the prisoner took the affirmative and the court the negative it was decided that his departure would be deferred until he had served the city to the amount of $25 and costs which is expected to keep him for at least 15 days. He will probably visit friends elsewhere at once after the expiration of this time

CITY HALL CONTRACT NOT YET AWARDED

In executive session at the close of the regular business the city council last night discussed the awarding of the contract for the new city hall. No action was taken in the matter although the discussion lasted over an hour. The matter of the stone to be used it is said was the bone of contention. This problem will probably be settled tomorrow night

Mr Paradice comes highly recommended as a man who thoroughly understands his business, having for years been a master plumber in New York and considered one of the best in that state. Davis & Company congratulate themselves on securing his valuable services

SERIOUS INJURY—E C McKnight an employe of the Standard mill was accidentally struck in the right eye Sunday by a piece of rock, and will lose the sight of that member. Shortly after the injury inflammation set in which speedily developed into facial herpes, the right side of the head extending down to the nose and to the lips being, as it were, paralyzed. Dr Turpin pronounces it a peculiar and interesting case, and of such uncommon occurrence as to attract universal attention in medical circles. The patient is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances

NAVAJO BLANKETS

The Indian tribes, viz The Navajos Pueblos and Mokis have been subsidized by the government so that they are not now obliged to work at weaving The result is that all the rugs and blankets are fast being bought up by dealers and it will only be a question of time before there will be none of them on the market The lucky owners of such rugs and blankets will therefore have prizes which cannot be duplicated at any price

In connection with our blankets and rugs we call your attention to a very rare selection which has been collected by a well known collector who for a long time has traveled among the natives and secured these specimens that would be impossible to get otherwise These we have bought and placed on sale at a special price Remember we price all Navajos as merchandise not as curios

WHY

Pay two or three idle owners and managers of Furniture Stores big salaries from the profits of their Upholstery Departments when you can get the work done better by only paying a wage to the man who actually does the work? This you will find a fact by getting your upholstering done at the shop, Kiowa St., rear Giddings Bros
